Who will win the Battle of Bihar?

NDA's return or Mahagathbandhan twist? The polls will decide whether Nitish Kumar, the state's longest-serving CM, will get a record fifth term or the state will go for a new government

PATNA

Finally, the wait is over! With less than a few hours to go for the counting of votes polled in the recent assembly elections, all eyes are on Bihar.

It will decide whether JD(U) supremo Nitish Kumar, the state's longest-serving chief minister, will get a record fifth term or the state will go for a new government.

According to the official website of the Election Commission of India (ECI), the counting of votes and the announcement of trends for the elections 2025 will commence at 8 am on November 14, with the final results expected to be declared by the evening.

Will the exit polls prove right?

The exit polls have offered a clear indication of the likely outcome, with most survey agencies predicting a decisive victory for the NDA alliance, pointing to a comfortable majority for the ruling coalition.

The BJP-led NDA is likely to retain power in Bihar, as per Axis My India and Today's Chanakya prediction. Axis My India predicted NDA to win by a narrow margin with 121-141 seats, MGB 98-118, JSP 0-2 seats while Today's Chanakya projected BJP a major victory with 160 seats, RJD 77 and others six seats. On Tuesday, nine exit polls also projected the NDA to win 147 seats in the 243-member Assembly.

Is the voter turnout an indicator?

The voter turnout in the second and final phase of the Bihar Assembly elections, was recorded to be 66.91%, officially the highest-ever voter turnout in the state since 1951, as per the ECI.

Will 'Nari Shakti' work for Modi & team?

Of the overall turnout of a record 66.91%, the voting percentage of women was 71.6% in the second phase, which is 8.8% points more than the 62.8% turnout of men and the largest ever gap recorded in the state. In terms of absolute numbers too, women out-voted men, a trend considered to be a first for Bihar.

Tejashwi a threat to Nitish?

As Bihar waits the election results, the final tally may yet favour the NDA as predicted by most exit polls.

However, regardless of whether the Grand Alliance (Mahagathbandhan) clinches the victory, 36-year-old Tejashwi Yadav has secured a seismic win. He has rebranded the Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD), cemented his leadership, and established himself as the most formidable challenger to Nitish Kumar's long-standing dominance in the state.

Will NDA romp home?

- Poll Diary projected the highest number of seats for the NDA, with a range of 184-209, while Axis My India forecast the lowest range of 121-141 seats.
- For Mahagathbandhan, the highest range of projection, 98-118 seats, was given by Axis My India, and the lowest range was forecast by Poll Diary: 32-49 seats.

Monitor drone cameras to avoid human-wildlife conflict: CM

BENGALURU

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, who gave instructions to increase the monitoring of drone cameras and formulate scientific methods in consultation with experts including Krupakara Senani-Sanjay Gubbi to avoid human-wildlife conflict, assured that all assistance from the government, including necessary personnel and funds, will be provided.

He instructed that steps be taken to immediately capture 15-20 tigers roaming outside the forest area due to old age, injuries caused by attacks by new young tigers and other reasons with the help of drone cameras.

Eight Kumki elephants are already being used for the operation and the Chief Minister instructed that the number of personnel and squads be used in the conflict-affected forest area as per the requirement. After a comprehensive discussion on this, the Chief Minister said, the following eight-point programme is in place to control human-wildlife conflict.

- Identify areas where human-wildlife conflict exists and list the nature of the conflict.
- Human resource management: Assignment of officers and staff based on the intensity of the conflict.
- Patrol: Increase patrols in forest edge villages and maintain registers.
- Senior officers should regularly stay in forest edge villages, especially those with human-wildlife conflict.
- Involve local people, identify enthusiastic youth and elders of forest edge villages and consider them as forest friends and use their services during patrols, wildlife, capture, and operations.
- Make vehicles and forest staff available 24/7 at strategic places where wildlife roam for wildlife conservation operations.

MOCK SHOW

Organize a mock show to provide information on wildlife capture and what to do when a wildlife attack occurs. Formation of coordination/collaboration committee at district level Formation of sub-committee at taluk level and seeking assistance from district administration and police department* This committee will meet regularly and work towards controlling human-wildlife conflict.

BNP suspends non-AC bus safari

BENGALURU

In view of a woman visitor being injured after a leopard climb onto a safari bus, the Bannerghatta National Park (BNP) has suspended non-AC Bus Safari indefinitely till further communication, according to a release by BNP. It added, "We regret to inform you of an unfortunate incident that occurred today around 1 pm during the Non-AC Bus Safari at the Leopard Safari. Vahitha Banu (56) sustained a minor injury to her hand when a leopard, while attempting to climb onto the bus, accidentally clawed her. She was immediately taken to the nearest hospital for first aid and was examined for any further injuries and is fine with a minor injury." All the safari drivers were warned about the previous incident of leopard attack and were instructed to take precautionary safety measures inside the safari.

8 killed, several injured as truck rams vehicles in Pune

PUNE

At least eight people were killed and several others injured when a container truck lost control and rammed into several vehicles near Navale bridge on the Pune-Bengaluru highway on Thursday evening.

Following the collision a few vehicles went up in flames, reports said.

As per reports, a car got crushed between two large container trucks that caught fire on a bridge along the Mumbai-Bengaluru Highway on the outskirts of Pune city.

Eight to ten others were injured in the accident on the Navale Bridge in the evening, they said.

In videos that surfaced after the accident, the car is seen crushed between the two heavy vehicles which are engulfed in huge fire. "We are probing how the accident happened. Currently, our priority is to ensure that the injured people receive immediate treatment in the hospital," stated the officer.

According to top intelligence sources, the disclosure was made by Dr Shaheen Saeed, her brother Dr Parvez, and Dr Muzzamil, during their interrogation

Probe reveals plan for 6 blasts on Dec 6

LUCKNOW

The probe agencies investigating the Delhi blast and its suspected roots in UP have uncovered a plot in which the Jaish-e-Mohammad-linked terror module, allegedly comprising Dr Shaheen Ansari, Dr Parvez Ansari and others, was planning coordinated explosions in six cities of the country on the anniversary of the Babri Masjid demolition in 1992 on December 6.

According to intelligence agency sources, the disclosure was made by Dr Shaheen, her brother Dr Parvez, and Dr Muzzamil, during their interrogation. The three are among those arrested in connection with the November 10 Red Fort blast. They were allegedly raising funds and coordinating logistics for the planned attacks.

Dr Shaheen divulged crucial inputs about the group's financial network and operational hierarchy during her grilling, said sources. Other arrested suspects — Dr Adeel Ahmad Rather, Dr Muzammil Ahmad Ganaie, Maulvi Irfan Ahmad, Arif Nisar Dar, Yasir-ul-Ashraf, Maqsood Ahmad, and Zameer Ahmad Ahanger — are also being interrogated to extract more information about the module's operations.

Preliminary findings pointed towards a five-phase plan drawn by the group. The first phase involved the formation of the module linked to the Jaish-e-Mohammad and Ansar Ghazwat-ul-Hind. The second focused on procuring raw materials and ammunition from Nuh and Gurugram (Haryana) to assemble improvised explosive devices (IEDs). The third covered manufacturing IEDs and conducting reconnaissance of potential targets. The fourth phase involved the distribution of assembled bombs among module members and the fifth phase was to execute synchronised explosions across all the locations.

Officials said the initial plan was to strike in August 2025, but due to logistical delays, the date was shifted to December 6. Investigators are also examining whether the module planned a parallel operation in Ayodhya on November 25 during the religious flag (dharam dhwaj) hoisting.

Not every resident of J&K is a terrorist: Omar

SRINAGAR

As probe into Delhi car blast intensifies and preliminary investigation points towards terror networks in J&K, Chief Minister Omar Abdullah has asserted, "Not every resident of Jammu and Kashmir is a terrorist or affiliated with terrorists."

"No amount of condemnation for this incident is enough. The killing of innocent people in this manner is unacceptable and no religion allows such acts. The investigation is underway, and all culprits must be punished," Omar told reporters in Jammu. The CM said that not every resident of the state is a terrorist and that there are only a few "who have always tried to disrupt peace and brotherhood here."

DELHI CHOKES UNDER TOXIC

'Go virtual, even masks not enough'

Delhi AQI remains 'severe'

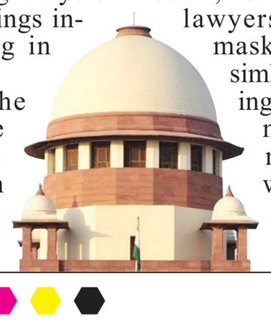
According to the Commission for Air Quality Management, Delhi's Air Quality Index (AQI) was recorded at 425 at 9 am on Tuesday, placing it in the 'severe'. Following this, the CAQM implemented a nine-point action plan under Stage III of the Graded Response Action Plan across the National Capital Region (NCR).

NEW DELHI

As toxic air continue to choke the National capital, Delhi, and the Air Quality Index (AQI) remains in the 'severe' category', the Supreme Court on Thursday sounded an alarm, describing the pollution levels in Delhi as "very serious" and asking lawyers to use virtual hearings instead of appearing in person.

Warning that the toxic air could cause permanent health damage, the Bench comprising Justices P S Narasimha and Atul S Chandurkar, said, "Situation is very very serious! Why are you all appearing here? We have a virtual hearing facility. Please avail it. This pollution will cause permanent damage."

In reply, Rajya Sabha member and Senior Advocate Kapil Sibal, who was present in court, told the bench that lawyers were wearing masks. Justice Narasimha reponded, saying "Even masks are not enough. It will not suffice. We will discuss with the Chief Justice as well."



'22 professionals part of white-collar Jaish terror'

New Delhi: Investigative agencies have identified a total of 22 doctors, engineers and educated professionals who are part of the white-collar Jaish-e-Mohammed terror module that carried out the Delhi blast in which 13 people were killed. The agencies said they were planning multiple blasts, with materials already procured, reconnaissance completed and devices ready.

BDA allots new sites to Arkavathy allottees

Bengaluru
The Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA) has finally allotted alternate sites in Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout (NPKL) to 784 allottees of Arkavathy Layout, who have been waiting for possession for nearly two decades. The original lands were denotified under the 2014 Re-Do scheme, leaving many allottees in long legal battles while paying property taxes for sites they never received, 755 allottees and 29 Surabhi Seva Sangha revenue owners were assigned new plots through a computerized draw by BDA Chairman N.A. Haris. Some allottees expressed frustration, saying they prefer plots closer to the original layout despite additional fees for the NPKL sites.

E-KYC now mandatory to avail MGNREGA job cards

Bengaluru
Bengaluru Rural District has made e-KYC verification compulsory for all MGNREGA job card holders to ensure transparency and prevent misuse of funds. Dr. K.N. Anuradha, CEO of the Zilla Panchayat, said all families across 101 Gram Panchayats must complete the process. Currently, 1.2 lakh families are registered, with 53,000 active job cards, and 86% have completed e-KYC. Linking job cards to Aadhaar will ensure only active workers' attendance is recorded and wages are directly credited to bank accounts. Workers without e-KYC will soon be unable to mark attendance. Assistance is available at Gram Panchayats or via the Panchamitra helpline.

Karnataka mandates local CSR spending for schools

Bengaluru
Karnataka plans a new corporate social responsibility (CSR) policy requiring companies to spend CSR funds within the state, focusing on public school development. School Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa said the proposal will go to the cabinet soon. The state is also upgrading 100 Urdu schools into bilingual institutions and aims to establish 6,000 Karnataka Public Schools (KPS) across gram panchayats. Around 18,000 teachers will be recruited before the next academic year, with the Teacher Eligibility Test scheduled for December 7. The government also defended lowering pass marks from 35% to 33% to improve student progression, while reviewing State Education Policy recommendations.

NEW BIKE LINE IN CITY?

Pedestrians edged out as bikers take over footpath

ADAM MANIYAR
BENGALURU

Pedestrian safety has become a growing concern along the ISRO Junction to Manipal Hospital stretch on HAL Main Road, as an increasing number of two-wheeler riders are using the footpath as an alternate lane to avoid traffic congestion.

The issue, observed during both morning and evening peak hours, has caused severe inconvenience to office-goers, hospital visitors, and nearby residents. The narrow footpaths, meant exclusively for pedestrians, are now frequently occupied by motorcycles maneuvering through the crowd, forcing walkers to step onto the main carriageway and risk accidents.

Commuters and local employees have voiced strong concern over the lack of enforcement in the area. "It has become almost impossible to walk safely. Many patients and elderly visitors to the hospital face great difficulty navigating the stretch," said a commuter working near ISRO Junction.

Residents have appealed to the Bengaluru Traffic Police and authorities concerned to take immediate action. Their suggestions include the installation of bollards along the footpath, deployment of traffic marshals, and strict penalties for violators.

"Safeguarding pedestrian rights is crucial in a city grappling with rising vehicular density. Regular monitoring and dedicated rule enforcement can help restore safety and discipline among riders.

Experts emphasize that protecting pedestrian rights is crucial in a city struggling with rising vehicular density. Regular monitoring and dedicated enforcement, they say, can help restore safety and discipline on this important road link connecting key institutions and residential areas. Authorities are expected to take note of the situation and implement measures to ensure that the footpath serves its rightful purpose a safe and unobstructed passage for pedestrians.

K'taka cabinet approves winter session in Belagavi

BENGALURU

The Karnataka cabinet has decided to hold the winter session of the state legislature in Belagavi for 10 days starting December 8, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister H.K. Patil announced on Thursday.

The decision aims to continue the tradition of conducting at least one session each year in the northern district to address regional concerns.

Minister Patil stated that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has been authorized to make the final decision regarding the session's details and scheduling.

The cabinet also reviewed pending matters related to key committees that have not submitted their reports for over six months.

Among them is the Justice John Michael D'Cunha committee, which was set up to examine the procurement of medicines and medical equipment during the COVID-19 pandemic. Another committee, led by Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar, is responsible for reviewing the financial conditions of Karnataka's universities and recommending corrective steps.

A third committee, headed by Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara, is reviewing progress on the Bengaluru-Mysuru Infrastructure Corridor (BMIC) project and will suggest measures for its future development.

Patil said the cabinet directed all three sub-committees to submit their reports at the earliest, even though no strict deadline was specified.

"The government wants timely action on long-pending issues and full accountability from all departments," he emphasized. The upcoming session is expected to cover key legislative matters, regional development issues, and administrative reviews, with Belagavi's Suvarna Vidhana Soudha once again serving as the venue for Karnataka's winter legislative proceedings.

Vehicle owners struggle as RTO halts NOC issuance

BENGALURU

Thousands of vehicle owners across Karnataka are facing major trouble as the Regional Transport Offices (RTOs) have stopped issuing No Objection Certificates (NOCs) for the last three months. Without this legal document, sellers are unable to transfer ownership or re-register their vehicles, leaving them legally responsible for vehicles they no longer own.

An NOC confirms that a vehicle has no pending dues, challans, or legal issues and is essential for transferring registration between RTOs. However, since August, the transport department has reportedly stopped issuing NOCs without giving a clear explanation. This delay has caused distress among citizens and car dealers alike.

Anant Hudenganj, who sold his vehicle before the Ganesh festival, said he is still waiting for ownership transfer.

"If my old car is involved in an accident or crime, I'll be blamed. The government must fix this immediately," he said. RTO officials have told applicants that the delay is due to "new software installation."

'Phone-in Programme' for north city residents today

BENGALURU

To strengthen public communication and ensure quick redressal of civic complaints, the Bengaluru North City Corporation (BNCC) has launched a weekly 'Phone-in Programme' led by Commissioner Pommala Sunil Kumar. The next session will be held from 7 am to 9 am on November 14, where citizens can speak directly with the Commissioner. Residents can raise issues related to potholes, streetlight repairs, waste collection, tree trimming, mosquito control, stray dog management, park maintenance, unauthorized banners, footpath encroachments, e-Khata problems, and drainage issues. All complaints received during the phone-in will be immediately registered on the 'Sahaaya 2.0' portal and forwarded to the relevant department for action. Citizens will receive an SMS confirmation with a complaint number and contact details of the responsible officer for follow-up.

For convenience, residents may also use the Sahaaya 2.0 mobile app to submit grievances anytime.

The Corporation stated that this initiative aims to make administration more transparent, responsive, and people-friendly, ensuring that public concerns are heard directly by the top official.

BECC steps up ongoing infra development projects

BENGALURU

Bengaluru East City Corporation (BECC) is pushing forward with development projects to improve city infrastructure and commuter convenience.

On Thursday, Lokhande Snehal Sudhakar, Additional Commissioner (Development), conducted on-site inspections of key ongoing works, including road resurfacing, pothole repairs, storm-water drain construction, and a community hall project.

At Hagadur and Naggondanahalli, the Commissioner checked the recently resurfaced roads. He reviewed the quality of the work to ensure it meets the set standards, stressing that residents deserve smooth and safe travel. During his visit to Hagadur's storm-water drain project, he inspected the retaining wall construction and instructed officials to speed up work while maintaining proper slope alignment.

This step is intended to prevent waterlogging and ensure smooth drainage during rains. In Nallurhalli, Siddapura Road, and Varthur–Gunjur Road, pothole repair works were closely reviewed. The Commissioner directed officials to complete all pending repairs quickly to avoid inconvenience and enhance commuter safety.

At the community hall under construction in Nallurhalli, the focus was on completing the first-floor roof slab. The Additional Commissioner urged engineers to adhere to timelines without compromising quality.

He emphasized that urban infrastructure projects have a direct impact on citizens' daily lives. Officials were warned that any negligence or delays would result in accountability measures.

He underlined that all civic works, including road repairs, drainage, and construction projects, must be completed promptly and to the highest standards.

Executive Engineer Raghavendra BN, Assistant Executive Engineers Gururajan and Ravikumar, and Assistant General Manager Jyoti Choulkar, along with other officials, accompanied the Commissioner during the inspection.

The city administration's active supervision highlights its commitment to safer roads, better drainage, and timely completion of community facilities, reflecting a stronger focus on quality and service for Bengaluru residents.

HC gives nod for RSS procession in Chittapur

BENGALURU

The Karnataka High Court has allowed the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) to hold a procession in Chittapur of Kalaburagi district on November 16 as part of the organization's 100th anniversary celebrations.

Justice M.G.S. Kamal of the Kalaburagi Bench delivered the ruling while hearing a petition filed by Ashok Patil, the RSS district convener. The petition challenged the district administration's refusal to permit the event. The court observed that the Tahsildar had already granted permission for a limited procession and therefore disposed of the petition by confirming the approval.

According to the court's order, 300 RSS members and 50 musicians will be allowed to take part in the procession. The bench made it clear that the decision aligns with the permission already issued at the local level.

The case gained significance due to an earlier state government order issued on October 18, 2025, which required official permission for all civic, social, or cultural gatherings involving more than 10 people in public places. The court had previously stayed that government order, noting that it restricted citizens' fundamental rights to freedom of speech, expression, and assembly.

During the hearing, the petitioner's lawyer requested an increase in the number of participants, citing the centenary celebrations, while Advocate General Shashikaran Shetty opposed the plea, arguing that the local authorities had already considered past event sizes.

After reviewing both sides, the bench upheld the Tahsildar's permission with a minor revision, allowing 50 musicians to participate. The decision was widely seen as a reaffirmation of constitutional freedoms and a balanced approach between public order and citizens' rights.

Devanahalli to host Children's Day celebrations today

DEVANAHALLI

The Bengaluru Rural District Administration, in association with the Zilla Panchayat, Women and Child Development Department, District Balabhavan Society, and School Education Department, will celebrate Children's Day at Dr BR Ambedkar Bhavan in Devanahalli Town at 10 am on Friday.

As per officials, Food, Civil Supplies and Consumer Affairs and Bengaluru Rural District In-charge KH Muniyappa will inaugurate the event. Minister for Women and Child Welfare Lakshmi Hebbalkar and several dignitaries, including C Narayanaswamy, Sharath Kumar Bachegowda, and Chikkaballapur MP Dr K Sudhakar will be present.

The event aims to honor Jawaharlal Nehru's love for children and inspire young students to pursue excellence with dedication and creativity, they said.

The programme will feature speeches, cultural performances, and activities emphasizing children's rights, education, and empowerment. Representatives from various local bodies, including municipal and gram panchayat officials, will join the celebration along with students, teachers, and parents from across the district.

'BE GREEN-FIELD LEADER'

Adopt modern farming methods, become entrepreneurs

BENGALURU

Agriculture Minister N Chaluvarayaswamy has urged farmers to adopt modern farming practices and become entrepreneurial leaders in agriculture.

Speaking at the inauguration of Krishi Mela 2025 at the Gandhi Krishi Vigyan Kendra, Bengaluru, he said agricultural fairs help farmers gain knowledge about high-yield and low-cost crops, boosting productivity and income. The four-day fair, themed "Prosperous Agriculture – Developed India: Land, Water and Crops," showcases innovations from Bangalore Agricultural University, which the minister praised for consistently releasing new crop varieties. He emphasized that both Central and State governments are working to make agriculture a sustainable industry.

Chaluvarayaswamy revealed that under the PMFME scheme, the Karnataka Processing and Export Corporation (KPEC) provided ₹15 lakh subsidies to 5,000 entrepreneurs. Sharing his visit to the International Rice Research Center in the Philippines, he said Indian scientists are also developing flood-resistant rice varieties similar to those found abroad.

He called for scientific and integrated farming, fair pricing, efficient marketing systems, and drought management to achieve sustainable agriculture. "Our goal is to make farmers' lives better through innovation and research support," he said.

Three progressive farmers were honoured with state-level awards during the event. Union Minister Shobha Karandlaje, Agriculture Secretary S. Selvakumar, and university officials S.V. Suresh, Narayanaswamy, and Dr. T.K. Prabhakar Shetty were present.

Siddalinga Swamiji Slams Priyank Kharge for Staying Silent on

Kalaburagi

Shiv Sena State President Sri Siddalinga Swamiji criticized District In-Charge Minister Priyank Kharge, saying, "He raises his voice about RSS lathis but has not spoken a word or condemned the recent bomb blast in Delhi." Speaking in Kalaburagi at around noon on November 13, Swamiji said, "You question the registration of the RSS, but have you ever asked about the registration of the Jaish-e-Mohammed organization? Such unfortunate incidents are happening in the country because of appeasement of the Muslim community," he alleged angrily.

Honest Cop Returns ₹1.45 Lakh Lost by Farmer

Yadgir

An act of honesty by a police constable who returned money found on the road to its rightful owner has come to light in the Surpur Police Station limits of Yadgir district. Farmer Gowdappa Patil had lost ₹1,47,000 while returning home after selling his cotton crop. Constable Dayanand Jamadar of the Surpur Police Station found the money on the same road and, under the leadership of Police Inspector Umesh Naik, returned it to the farmer. Farmer Gowdappa and local villagers expressed their appreciation for the integrity and good work of the Surpur police.

Kamalnagar Upgraded to Town Panchayat

BIDAR

Former Minister and Aurad (B) MLA Prabhu B. Chavan announced that the Cabinet has approved upgrading Kamalnagar from a Gram Panchayat to a Town Panchayat, calling it the result of his persistent efforts.

In a press release, he stated that he has worked tirelessly for the comprehensive development of Kamalnagar, a border area. Previously, residents had to travel to Aurad for administrative work, causing inconvenience. To overcome this and give development a new direction, he actively worked to establish a new taluk center.

Chavan explained that as the population grows, government facilities must reach the people, and upgrading the Gram Panchayat to a Town Panchayat was essential for effectively implementing development projects. He repeatedly met with the Chief Minister, concerned ministers, and officials, submitted letters, and raised the issue in the Legislative Assembly. While technical delays occurred during his tenure as minister, all obstacles have now been resolved.

'Kannada Vachanas Are Superior to All World Languages'

179th Anubhava Mantapa and 70th Kannada Rajyotsava Celebration

BIDAR

"Karnataka's Kannada language should not remain just a spoken language but should live in our hearts," said Mahalinga Swamiji of Bhalki Hiremath, stressing the importance of learning one's mother tongue with pride and devotion. Speaking at the 179th Anubhava Mantapa and 70th Karnataka Rajyotsava celebrations held at Dr. Channabasava Pattadevara Prasada Nilaya in Bidar, he reminded the audience that mastering Kannada helps people learn other languages more easily. He further added that the Vachanas composed during Basavanna's era hold a unique place in world literature for their depth and philosophy.

The program was inaugurated by Dr. Mallikarjun Yatanur, Police Inspector and member of Bidar GESCOM Jagruta Dal. In his address, he voiced concern over the growing commercialization of education and appreciated Nadoja Dr. Basavalinga Patadevaru for his commitment to providing quality education to underprivileged and talented students through Gurukula institutions.

Lokesh Udabale, Vice-Principal of Bidar Channabasaveshwar Gurukul PU College, spoke about Kannada's rich heritage. He noted that Kannada is the third oldest language in India, has its own script, and is known as the "Queen of World Languages." He proudly mentioned that Kannada literature has earned eight Jnanpith Awards, showing its global recognition and literary excellence.

Diksha Santosh, a student of Anubhava Mantapa Samskruti Vidyalaya, shared her thoughts on the teachings and moral values found in the Vachanas. Several dignitaries attended the event, including Suvarna Chimkode, Sidramappa Kapalapur, Omkar Uppe, Sangramappa Biradar, Mallikarjun Hudage, Dr. Vaijnath Biradar, Basavaraj Halle, Teerthamma, and Meenakshi Patil. On this occasion, Rajyotsava Awardee Lokesh Udabale was honored by Mahalinga Swamiji, along with Dr. Yatanur, Sidramappa Kapalapur, Omkar Uppe, and Sanket. The event began with a Gurubasava Prayer presented by the Akkamahadevi Mahila Cultural Association, followed by Vachana Sangeeta performances by Channabasappa Naubade and Srinivas Papade. Vijayalakshmi welcomed the guests and compered the program, making the celebration both cultural and inspiring.

Sugarcane Price Fixed at ₹2,900 per Ton in Bidar District

Farmers demand ₹3,100 per ton; authorities fix sugarcane rate at ₹2,900.

BIDAR

District Commissioner Shilpa Sharma on Thursday announced that the sugarcane price for this season has been fixed at ₹2,900 per ton. The decision was made after a detailed meeting held at the DC office, which was attended by farmer leaders, representatives of sugarcane growers' associations, and managing directors of local sugar factories.

DC Sharma explained that the new rate was set to ensure a fair balance between farmers and sugar factories. The price marks an increase of ₹250 compared to last year's rate of ₹2,650 per ton. Earlier discussions had suggested ₹2,850 per ton, with both the state government and sugar factories contributing ₹50 each. However, after careful review and consultations, officials finalized ₹2,900 as the official rate. The announcement followed widespread farmer protests in Humnabad, where cultivators demanded ₹3,100 per ton due to heavy crop damage caused by excess rainfall this year. Farmer leaders argued that the losses had raised production costs, making a higher rate essential. District authorities, however, emphasized that the decision must consider both the farmers' welfare and the financial viability of the factories. They confirmed that all sugar factories in the district would be required to pay the fixed rate and that the administration would ensure compliance.

In Bidar, the sugar recovery rate currently stands at 9.6 percent, which played a key role in determining the final price. Similar meetings were also held in Haveri, where farmer representatives agreed to accept the ₹2,900 rate. Despite this, a few farmer groups in Bidar have stated they plan to continue their agitation, still demanding ₹3,100 per ton.

The price-fixing meeting was attended by Praveen Bargal, Deputy Director of Food and Civil Supplies, along with sugar factory owners and association members. Officials expressed hope that the revised rate would bring stability to the region's sugarcane sector and reduce ongoing tensions between farmers and mill owners.

KKRTC chief vows transport reforms, meets Yadgir passengers and staff for feedback.

People-Friendly Transport System is the First Priority: M.Y. Patil

YADGIR

The state government is ready to strengthen the transport department — which is like the lifeline of people's daily lives — and to implement necessary reforms to provide an efficient, people-friendly transport system, said Arunkumar M.Y. Patil, the newly appointed Chairman of Kalyana Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (KKRTC).

Visiting Yadgir city for the first time after assuming charge, he directly met passengers and staff at various locations, including the new bus stand, and listened to their grievances.

"Just as roads, education, health, and electricity are essential to human life, transportation too is equally important for connectivity. With the responsibility given by the party and the government, I will strive to the best of my ability to give KKRTC a new shape and identity through dedicated work," said Patil.

Patil personally interacted with passengers from nearby villages and inquired about the bus services.

He patiently listened to their feedback and instructed the officials present to take note of all issues and resolve them promptly.

On this occasion, the corporation's Deputy Chief Mechanical Engineer Rajagopal Puranik, Divisional Controller G.B. Manjunath, depot managers, officers, staff, and Congress youth leader Pamannagowda Channareddy Patil Tunnur were present.

The Karnataka state transport system has become a model for the entire country. Particularly, the Kalyana Karnataka Road Transport Corporation has won several national and international awards and recognitions for maintaining a people-friendly transport service.

Blood Donation is the Greatest Donation: Deshmukh

Dr. Umatayi Deshmukh, Director of the institution, spoke about the importance of blood testing and the process of blood donation.

The event was attended by Dr. Gnaneshwar Niragude, District Health Officer; Dr. Sanga Reddy, Taluk Health Officer; Dr. Vinita Patil, Principal of Lingaraj Appa Technical College.

District Collector Shilpa Sharma Urges Action for Education of Migrant Workers' Children

BIDAR

District Collector Shilpa Sharma has directed officials to take measures to ensure the education of children of migrant workers coming from other states. She issued these instructions while chairing a meeting of the Coordination and Review Committee to Prevent Child Marriage and the District Child Welfare and Protection Committee at the Collectorate on Thursday.

During the sugarcane harvesting season, migrant workers arrive in Bidar with their families, and their children often miss out on schooling. To address this, the District Education Department, Women and Child Welfare Department, Child Rights Protection Unit, Labor Department, nearby Gram Panchayats, and sugar mill owners must collaborate to provide education and basic facilities for these children.

All contractors bringing migrant workers from other states, as well as the workers themselves, must be registered. This will help ensure access to essential facilities and enable children to attend Anganwadi centers or nearby schools. Additionally, childcare centers should be established in factories employing women workers.

Sharma stressed that the active involvement of all departments is critical to making Bidar district child marriage-free. Officials are required to report any cases of child marriage immediately and take appropriate preventive measures.

She also instructed that all government, semi-government, educational, and private institutions at the district, taluk, hobli, and village levels must display Children's Helpline 1098 boards.

The meeting was attended by MS Sridhar, Deputy Director of Women and Child Development Department; RLHP, Mysore representatives; state directors of the Child Labor Abolition Movement; state coordinator Saraswati; district child protection officer Sampath Katti; child welfare committee president Seemappa; project manager of Marathwada Rural Development Society Ashwajit Jadhav; evaluator Anup More, and other officials.

Interfaith Harmony Highlighted at Kannada Quran Discourse in Bidar's Bagdal

BIDAR

A remarkable event in Bagdal, a town known for its mix of Hindus, Muslims, Lingayats, Kurubas, Buddhists, and Christians, became a shining example of interfaith harmony and respect. The Kannada Quran Discourse, organized by the Jamaat-e-Islami Hind (JIH), Bagdal unit, drew an unexpectedly large audience, far exceeding the anticipated thousand participants. People of different faiths — men and women alike — gathered under one roof in a spirit of friendship and understanding.

Delivering the main discourse, Muhammad Kunhi, State Secretary of JIH Karnataka, said the Quran is a universal guide emphasizing justice, mercy, and moral integrity. "Peace can prevail only when there is justice in our hearts and compassion in our actions. These are not just Islamic, but universal values," he stated. Leaders from various faiths shared the stage, lauding the initiative. Shri Basavaraj Patil, a Lingayat leader, said that listening to each other's scriptures helps remove misunderstandings. Reverend Father D'Souza of Sacred Heart Church noted that hearing the Quran in Kannada revealed shared values of honesty, love, and service. Buddhist monk Bhante Mahendra said such gatherings prove that kindness is stronger than division. Dr. Shailendra Beldale, MLA of South Bidar, remarked that such programs strengthen communal brotherhood.

Other dignitaries, including Dr. Sri Chandrashekhar Shivachariya, Father Clery D'Souza, and Bimal Kheda, praised the effort as a noble step toward unity. JIH District Organizer Iqbal Ghazi said the aim was to reinforce Bagdal's existing spirit of harmony by presenting the Quran's message in Kannada for everyone's understanding.

Participants received booklets with selected Quranic verses in Kannada. Local JIH President Engineer Neseemuddin said the overwhelming response reflected Bagdal's enduring spirit of openness, mutual respect, and peace.

A Platform to Showcase Children's Hidden Talents

BHALKI

The main aim of the Pratibha Karanji program is to bring out the hidden talents of children, said Chandrashekhar Bannale, President of the Taluk Government Employees' Association.

He was speaking at the 2025–26 Halabarga Cluster-Level Pratibha Karanji and Kalotsava program held on Wednesday at the Government Higher Primary School in Konamelkunda village.

Bannale said that Pratibha Karanji serves as a perfect platform for children to showcase their artistic and creative abilities through participation in folk dance and music, painting, essay writing, debate, mono acting, and social and mythological plays, among other cultural activities. Addressing the gathering, Block Education Officer C.G. Hallad described Pratibha Karanji as a festival of young artistic talents — a celebration not only for parents but also for the entire community. "It is an opportunity for parents to witness their children's talents up close," he added.

"POVERTY CAN'T STOP HAPPIRAJ"

HAPPIRAJ, THE JUDO BOY'S JOURNEY OF SUCCESS

KALABURAGI

Sixteen-year-old Happiraj from the Tarfile area of Kalaburagi is proving that determination can overcome poverty. Despite financial struggles, this young judo player is chasing his dream of becoming a national champion. Recently, he made his city proud by winning the gold medal in the under-17 cadet category at the state-level school judo championship held in Belagavi. This victory has secured his spot at the upcoming national tournament in Manipur, starting on November 22.

Happiraj's father, Siddaraju, works as a tile setter and plumber, while his mother, Usha, is an ASHA worker who also takes up part-time hotel work to support her son's sports journey. "We are poor, but we believe in our boy. He has missed national medals before due to lack of proper food and diet. This time, we are confident he will win," says Siddaraju with hope.

A Class 10 student at Shakaina Baptist School, Happiraj balances his studies and sports with remarkable discipline. His school has been supportive, encouraging him to continue both his education and judo practice. He trains for nearly six hours a day, split between morning and evening sessions.

Under the guidance of his coaches Ashok Suri, Shivam Joshi, and Prakash, Happiraj has already collected over ten medals at district and state tournaments.

He started practicing judo in 2017 and has represented Karnataka twice at the national level — finishing fourth in Jammu & Kashmir and sixth in Kerala.

Coach Ashok Suri describes him as a talented and hard-working athlete. "Happiraj competes in the 66 kg category. Our team has 35 players and has won six medals at the state level. Another player, Shivaprasad, has also qualified for nationals. The whole team is doing well," he shares proudly.

Filled with determination, Happiraj says, "I want to win a medal and make Karnataka proud. My dream is to get a government job through the sports quota and support my family."

His journey shows that with dedication and family support, even big dreams can rise from humble beginnings.

MLA launches signature campaign in support of Rahul

Bhagyanagar

Expressing strong discontent against alleged electoral malpractice, local MLA S.N. Subba Reddy has accused the BJP of coming to power through vote rigging and called for a nationwide movement to restore democratic integrity. Speaking at the inauguration of a signature campaign near the Babasaheb Ambedkar statue on DVG Main Road, he emphasized the need for public awareness about voter fraud and the importance of protecting electoral rights. Subba Reddy noted that growing anger among citizens toward the ruling party has led to the emergence of movements such as 'Vote Chor' and 'Gaddi Chhod', which directly target Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Woman hurt after landmine meant for boars explodes

Sasalu

In a shocking incident, a woman sustained severe injuries after a landmine planted to trap wild boars exploded in a forest area near Gummanahalli village in Doddaballapura taluk. The victim, identified as Rangamma (45), a resident of Gummanahalli, had gone to the nearby forest to graze her goats when the tragic explosion occurred. According to local sources, one of her goats got entangled in a wire connected to a crude landmine. When Rangamma tried to free the animal, the bomb detonated, causing a major injury to her hand. Hearing the explosion, villagers rushed to the spot and immediately alerted local authorities.

Collector directs early preparations for 2027 census

Chikkaballapur

District Collector A.B. Basavaraju has directed officials to begin immediate preparations for the upcoming 2027 national census, emphasizing the need for accuracy and timely completion of the boundary demarcation of villages and towns. Speaking at a pre-census coordination meeting held at the District Administration Building, the Collector instructed officers to ensure that the census process is free from errors or discrepancies. "Preparations must begin now to ensure that the 2027 census is carried out efficiently and without loopholes," he said, adding that identifying and confirming village boundaries would be the first and most crucial step.

K'taka Min propose saints' names for 4 railway stations

Recommendation sent Centre to name Vijayapura, Belagavi, Bidar, and Sooragondanakoppa (Shivamogga district) station after revered saints

BENGALURU

In a move aimed at celebrating Karnataka's rich spiritual and cultural legacy, Minister for Infrastructure Development MB Patil has recommended the renaming of four railway stations in Vijayapura, Belagavi, Bidar, and Sooragondanakoppa (Shivamogga district) after revered saints who have made outstanding contributions to the state's religious and social life.

In a formal communication to the Union Ministry of Home Affairs, the Minister proposed that the Vijayapura Railway Station be renamed Jnanayogi Sri Siddeshwar Swamiji Railway Station, the Belagavi Station as Sri Basava Mahaswamiji Railway Station, the Bidar Station as Channabasava Pattaddevaru Railway Station, and the Sooragondanakoppa Station as Bhayagada Railway Station. Patil stated that the initiative seeks to honour saints whose teachings and social reforms have left an enduring mark on Karnataka's history. He added that the recommendations were made after considering the regional significance and deep public reverence for these spiritual leaders.

The proposal, forwarded through the Infrastructure Development Department, awaits approval from the Union Home Ministry, which is responsible for final authorization of railway station name changes. Once cleared, the renaming will be officially notified in the Gazette of India.

All four railway stations fall under the Hubballi Division of the South Western Railway. The Minister expressed hope that the proposal would be approved promptly, emphasizing that renaming these stations would serve as a symbolic gesture of respect toward the saints who have played vital roles in shaping Karnataka's spiritual and cultural identity.

The move has been widely welcomed by followers of the respective saints, who view it as a long-overdue recognition of their enduring influence and contributions to society.

'Officials should stay at HQ even during public holidays'

CHITRADURGA

Deputy Commissioner (DC) T. Venkatesh has issued strict instructions to district and taluk-level officials, directing them to be present at their respective headquarters at all times, including on public holidays. The directive aims to ensure better administrative coordination and immediate response to public needs.

According to the DC, during surprise inspections conducted at both district and taluk levels, it was found that some officers were absent from their headquarters without prior permission. This lack of presence, he noted, hampers the smooth functioning of government offices and delays public service delivery.

Venkatesh emphasized that all officers must strictly adhere to the rule of remaining at their assigned headquarters unless there are unavoidable circumstances such as official work elsewhere or urgent personal matters. In such cases, officers are required to obtain prior approval from the Deputy Commissioner before leaving their station.

He further warned that any official found violating these instructions would face disciplinary action. The circular, serves as a formal reminder to ensure accountability and efficiency within the district administration.

The DC's directive underlines the administration's commitment to maintaining a strong on-ground presence of officials, especially during emergencies or when public services are required without delay. The move is expected to improve the district's governance standards and reinforce discipline among the government staff across Chitradurga and its taluks.

DS Dhananjay gets Ph.D for research in maths

MANDYA

D.S. Dhananjay has been awarded a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degree in Mathematics by the University of Mysore for his outstanding research work. His thesis, titled Mathematical Study of Convective Heat Transfer Flow in a Viscous Fluid in Channels, was carried out under the guidance of Dr. K. Shivashankar. Dhananjay's research focuses on the mathematical analysis of convective heat transfer phenomena in viscous fluids flowing through channels — a subject with significant applications in engineering and fluid dynamics. His work provides valuable insights into thermal flow characteristics, contributing to both academic and practical advancements in the field of applied mathematics.

Currently, D.S. Dhananjay serves as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Mathematics at the Government First Grade College in K.R. Nagar.

Police investigations revealed that the accused had been conducting temple hundi thefts over the past few months

5 held for temple hundi thefts, booty seized

BANGARPET

In a major operation, the Bangarpet police have arrested five individuals involved in a series of temple hundi thefts in the taluk.

The accused have been identified as Lokesh (35), Soma (25), Venkatappa (62), Murugesh (26), and Muniyappa (28). The gang was reportedly targeting temples located in rural and isolated areas, stealing donation boxes meant for religious offerings.

During the operation, police recovered ₹31,800 in cash, 16 silver and brass plates, eight bullets, three two-wheelers used in the crimes, and a horse allegedly utilized by the thieves for transportation. The recovery of such a diverse range of items has drawn attention to the unusual methods employed by the gang.

Police investigations revealed that the accused had been conducting these thefts over the past few months. They would visit temples during late-night hours, break open the hundis, and flee with the collected donations and other valuable temple property. The temple committees had raised repeated complaints following several incidents of missing hundi money, prompting the police to intensify surveillance and deploy special teams.

After gathering crucial leads, the police were able to track down the suspects and apprehend them. During interrogation, the accused reportedly confessed to their involvement in multiple thefts. They were later produced before the court and remanded in judicial custody.

The Bangarpet Police have been commended by local residents and devotees for their swift and effective action. Authorities have also urged temple administrations to strengthen security arrangements and install CCTV cameras to prevent such incidents in the future.

Public outrage over proliferation of fake clinics in C'ballapur

CHIKKABALLAPUR

A major health crisis is brewing in Chikkaballapur district as reports reveal the rampant operation of fake clinics run by unqualified practitioners. These unauthorized clinics, often functioning without proper licenses or signboards, have become a serious concern for residents who fear for public safety. Shockingly, many of these so-called doctors claim to have 10 to 20 years of experience, misleading patients into trusting their medical advice.

According to local sources, several such clinics have mushroomed across the district, with fake doctors openly running their operations as if they were legitimate professionals. One such example is a clinic in Palyakere village of Chelur taluk, which reportedly operates without a signboard or medical authorization. Despite multiple complaints and visible violations, no firm action has been taken against these clinics so far.

The public has voiced strong allegations against District Health Officer (DHO) Mahesh, questioning his inaction. Citizens are demanding to know whether the DHO is unaware of the situation or deliberately ignoring it. Some even allege that there could be collusion between the authorities and these fake medical practitioners.

Min plans upgrade of Murugamalla Dargah amid sanitation concerns

CHIKKABALLAPUR

Chikkaballapur district incharge minister Dr. A.K. Ramachandran has announced plans to upgrade the historic Hazrat Ammazan Bawajan Dargah at Murugamalla village in Chintamani taluk to international standards. The decision aims to promote the spiritual and cultural significance of the site while improving infrastructure and facilities for devotees.

During discussions about the development of the Dargah, M.C. Sudhakar pledged to allocate several crores of rupees for the state's overall progress, ensuring that such religious landmarks receive the attention they deserve. However, the current condition of the Dargah premises paints a concerning picture of neglect and poor maintenance.

Despite being a major spiritual destination visited by hundreds of devotees daily, garbage is reportedly piled up across the Dargah grounds. The foul stench of waste has made it difficult for devotees and locals to move around the area comfortably. Many visitors have expressed frustration that such an important holy place is being allowed to deteriorate due to the lack of proper sanitation.

Residents have raised health concerns, fearing that the unhygienic conditions could lead to the spread of diseases. The issue has drawn criticism towards Waqf Board officials, who have allegedly failed to maintain cleanliness and order despite repeated complaints from the public.

Minister Ramachandran's initiative to transform the Dargah into a world-class religious center has been welcomed by devotees, who hope that the development project will also address long-standing issues of waste management, hygiene, and infrastructure.

Midnight thefts rock Gandhi Circle, med stores main target

HOSKOTE

A series of thefts occurred in Gandhi Circle, leaving several shop owners in distress after burglars broke into multiple stores and escaped with cash and goods worth over ₹1.5 lakh. The incidents have raised serious concerns over night-time security in the area, with victims alleging negligence on the part of local police.

According to reports, thieves first targeted Madhu Medical and General Store, located in Gandhi Circle. They broke into the shop around midnight and made away with a bundle of cigarettes worth ₹80,000 and ₹70,000 in cash.

The burglars then proceeded to Maruti Medical, situated opposite the police station along the Hoskote–Chintamani state highway, where they stole ₹1,000 in cash and Horlicks and Boost bottles worth several thousand rupees.

The thieves didn't stop there — they also attempted to break into the Manjunatha Provision Store next door. They managed to break the lock but were unable to open the door and fled the scene.

The thefts came to light the following morning when the shop owners arrived to open their stores and discovered the damage. One of the affected shopkeepers immediately approached the Nandagudi Police Station to lodge a complaint. However, the complainant has alleged that the police failed to register the case promptly, causing further frustration among local traders.

Residents and business owners in the area have expressed anger over the rising incidents of thefts and the alleged lack of vigilance, especially given that one of the stores targeted is located right opposite a police station. They have demanded an immediate investigation, stronger night patrols, and swift action to apprehend the culprits responsible for the series of burglaries.

Final voter list of newly-formed Bashethihalli TP out

DODDABALLAPURA

The long-awaited final voter list for the newly formed Bashethihalli Town Panchayat in Doddaballapura taluk has been officially published on November 13, marking a key milestone ahead of the local body elections. This is the first time in five years that a voter list has been prepared for the new town panchayat.

The State Election Commission had earlier completed the delimitation process, creating 19 wards under the jurisdiction of the Bashethihalli Town Panchayat. With all legal disputes, including those related to ward boundaries and reservation allotments, now resolved in court, the authorities have finalized all arrangements for the upcoming elections.

Prior to the final list, a draft voters' list with photographs was released on October 30, allowing residents to file objections or corrections. Following a review of all objections and consultations with representatives from recognized political parties, the final voter list was approved and made public.

Officials from the District Election Department have stated that the polling date is expected to be announced within a few days after the release of the final list. The publication of the voter list is seen as a major step towards conducting fair and transparent elections for the Bashethihalli Town Panchayat, which will soon elect its representatives for the first time since its formation.

The local administration has urged all eligible voters to verify their names in the final list and ensure their participation in the upcoming civic elections.

EDUCATION FOR ALL

Ensure every child is enrolled in school, officials told

KOLAR

Zilla Panchayat Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Praveen P. Bagewadi has issued firm instructions to officials of various departments to ensure that no child in the district remains out of school. He emphasized that every eligible child must be identified and enrolled in nearby schools without delay.

Speaking at a meeting of officials from the Education Department and other related departments held at the Zilla Panchayat office auditorium, Bagewadi stressed the need for a coordinated effort to achieve 100 percent school enrollment across Kolar district. He noted that children who are not attending school for various personal, social, or economic reasons must be identified through field visits and community engagement.

The CEO further directed that any official—regardless of department—who comes across out-of-school children must immediately facilitate their admission to the nearest government school. He also emphasized that such students should be provided with all necessary government benefits, including free uniforms, textbooks, and midday meals.

Bagewadi added that awareness campaigns should be organized at the village and ward levels to educate parents about the importance of education and the welfare schemes available for schoolchildren. He urged officials to collaborate closely with teachers, Anganwadi workers, and local leaders to achieve the goal of universal education in the district.

The directive underscores the district administration's commitment to reducing dropout rates and ensuring that every child in Kolar has access to quality education and government support.

Embrace scientific thinking, students told

Mandya
A science exhibition organized by the Mandya Women's Government College (Autonomous), in association with the Science Forum and the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), was inaugurated today (November 13) by lighting a ceremonial lamp. Speaking at the event, the chief guest emphasized that education is essential for developing mental strength and that students should cultivate a deeper interest in science to contribute meaningfully to society. The speaker highlighted India's long-standing legacy of scientific discovery, noting that even during the pre-colonial era, the country had advanced knowledge systems. The British did not come to India merely for spices; they were also drawn by our ancient Ayurvedic wisdom.

Sports Dept offers incentives, award schemes for athletes

In addition to these incentive programs, the department has also invited nominations for prestigious state-level awards

CHITRADURGA

The Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports has announced that applications are now open for various sports-related incentive and award schemes aimed at recognizing and supporting athletes who have excelled at different levels of competition.

According to the department, athletes from Karnataka who have participated or won medals at national or international levels during 2023 and 2024 are eligible to apply for the Cash Award Incentive Scheme. Similarly, under the Educational Fee Reimbursement Scheme, sportspersons pursuing PUC, degree, postgraduate, or professional courses who have represented the state or won medals in national or international events can seek reimbursement of academic fees.

For school-level athletes, the Sports Scholarship Scheme for 2024–25 offers scholarships to students from Class 6 to Class 10 who have secured first place in state-level tournaments or have represented the state and won medals in official national-level competitions.

In addition to these incentive programs, the department has also invited nominations for prestigious state-level awards. These include the Ekalavya Award for athletes who have demonstrated exceptional performance, the Lifetime Achievement Award for veteran coaches who have contributed significantly to sports development, the Karnataka Kreeda Ratna Award for achievers in rural and traditional sports, and the Karnataka Kreeda Poshaka Award for institutions promoting sports in the state.

Eligible sportspersons can submit their applications online through the official Seva Sindhu portal at https://sevasindhu.karnataka.gov.in before December 3, as per the notification issued by the Assistant Director of the Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports.

The case was pending since 2019 and was settled through hybrid mode involving both in-person and video conference proceedings

Lok Adalat helps solve 92-yr-old woman's property case

RAMANAGARA

In a remarkable instance of justice and compassion, a 92-year-old woman's long-pending civil case was amicably resolved through the Lok Adalat in Ramanagara, marking a rare and heartwarming conclusion. The case, which had been pending since 2019, was settled on Thursday through hybrid mode, involving both in-person and video conference proceedings.

Demonstrating exceptional commitment, the presiding judge personally visited the elderly woman to facilitate the proceedings, ensuring that her age and physical limitations did not become an obstacle to justice. Another party involved in the case joined through video conference, allowing the Lok Adalat to finalize the compromise and bring the case to an end.

Lok Adalats, often referred to as People's Courts, provide a simplified platform for dispute resolution where conciliation is prioritized over litigation. Cases are settled through mutual agreement between the disputing parties under the guidance of judges and legal experts. Once a settlement is reached and a decree is issued, the decision becomes final and cannot be appealed further.

The system has proven effective in reducing the burden on regular courts while saving time and expenses for the litigants.

The case in question—O.S. 14/2019—involved a property dispute filed by P. Girija against her father Puttananjayya and her brothers, Mohan Kumar and P. Shashikumar. Girija had challenged the sale of ancestral property allegedly executed without her consent in 2006. Under the guidance of Senior Civil Judge Nivedita T.M. and DLSA Member Secretary Savitha P.R., both parties were persuaded to reach an amicable settlement. Girija agreed to accept monetary compensation in lieu of her share, while one of her brothers, residing in London, provided his consent via video conference.

Thus, after six years of litigation, the elderly woman's case found a peaceful conclusion, symbolizing the humane spirit and efficiency of the Lok Adalat system.

Parent-Teacher Meet to boost overall devpt of students

CHITRADURGA

In a significant initiative aimed at enhancing the educational development of students, the Chitradurga Zilla Panchayat will organize a Parent-Teacher General Meeting (Mahasabha) across all government primary, secondary, and pre-university colleges in the district on November 14. The event seeks to foster a healthy exchange of ideas between parents, teachers, and students for the holistic growth of children.

Zilla Panchayat Chief Executive Officer Dr. S. Akash has appealed to all parents to participate actively in the Mahasabha and contribute to the success of the program. He emphasized that discussions during the meeting will focus on reducing absenteeism, preventing school dropouts, improving academic results, and encouraging the overall progress of each child. The CEO noted that parents play a crucial role in their children's educational journey and that their cooperation is vital for ensuring regular attendance and promoting quality education. The meeting will also address ways to create a conducive learning environment through collective participation from parents, teachers, and local representatives.

Punish those behind terror activities without delay: MLA

'Maintaining law and order is a collective responsibility and the police and intelligence agencies must remain vigilant and proactive'

Legislator SR Srinivas has called for swift and strict action against individuals involved in terrorist activities, emphasizing that such elements pose a grave threat to national security and public peace. Speaking to reporters in Tumakuru, the MLA said that terrorism, in any form, should be met with zero tolerance and that those found guilty must be punished without delay. People who support or participate in anti-national and extremist activities must be identified at the earliest and brought to justice, Srinivas stated.

He added that maintaining law and order is a collective responsibility and urged the police and intelligence agencies to remain vigilant and proactive in preventing extremist activities. The legislator also highlighted the importance of community awareness and cooperation with law enforcement to curb the spread of radical ideologies.

Srinivas further remarked that terrorism not only disrupts peace but also hinders the nation's progress. He urged the government to strengthen counter-terrorism mechanisms, enhance intelligence coordination, and ensure that those involved in such acts face the harshest legal consequences.

The MLA's statement comes in the backdrop of increasing concerns about extremist activities in certain regions. His appeal reinforces the message that decisive action is essential to safeguard public safety and uphold national integrity.

Tumakuru students want KSRTC ply bus on time

TUMAKURU

A group of college students from Tumakuru visited the residence of the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) Chairman, requesting that buses be operated on time to help them reach their colleges without delay.

The students expressed their difficulties in attending morning classes due to irregular bus schedules and frequent delays.

According to the students, several KSRTC buses operating between rural areas and Tumakuru city often run late, causing them to miss important lectures and internal examinations. They said that despite repeated complaints at local depots, the issue persists, forcing many to depend on private vehicles or reach college late every day. The students urged KSRTC officials to review the current schedule and ensure that buses are dispatched on time, especially during the morning and evening peak hours when college students and office-goers rely heavily on public transport. They also requested that additional buses be deployed on routes with high student traffic. The KSRTC Chairman reportedly assured the students that their concerns would be addressed immediately. He directed the concerned officials to assess the affected routes and make necessary adjustments to improve service punctuality. The move by the students has drawn public attention to the broader issue of irregular public transport services in educational zones. Many parents and teachers have supported the students' appeal, emphasizing that reliable transportation is essential for ensuring punctuality, safety, and academic discipline among college-going youth.

'Students should balance academics with cultural pursuits'

MYSURU

Encouraging students to balance academics with cultural pursuits, Mysuru Division Joint Director of the Department of Kannada and Culture VN Mallikarjun Swamy emphasized the importance of participating in cultural competitions to develop a spirit of healthy competition and creativity.

He was speaking after inaugurating the Kala Pratibhotsava 2025–26, organized by the District Administration and the Department of Kannada and Culture at Gandhi Bhavan in the city on Thursday.

Swamy highlighted that for the past eight years, the Department of Kannada and Culture has been organizing the Kala Pratibhotsava competitions in every district to identify and encourage young artistic talent. Winners at the district level will have the opportunity to compete at the divisional level, providing them with wider recognition and exposure.

Ex-MLA accuses DC of corruption; announces 'Jail Bharo' stir

RAMANAGARA

Former MLA A Manjunath has levelled serious allegations against Bengaluru South District Deputy Commissioner Yashwanth, accusing him of corruption, misuse of authority, and illegal acquisition of land in Bidadi under benami names.

Speaking at a press conference held in Byramangala, Bidadi taluk, on Thursday, Manjunath announced that a Jail Bharo protest will soon be organized against the Deputy Commissioner's actions. He also stated that formal complaints will be submitted to the Governor, the Chief Secretary of the State Government, and the Lokayukta seeking an inquiry into the alleged irregularities.

Manjunath alleged that under the Bidadi Smart City project, the Deputy Commissioner had acquired 300 to 400 acres of land using intermediaries and agents. We have documentary evidence of these illegal transactions, and even the agents are openly discussing their involvement, he claimed. The former MLA accused the officer of acting in an autocratic manner and not discharging his duties in a transparent or accountable way.

Firecracker factory blast kills 2 in UP

Barabanki

Two people were killed and three others injured after an explosion rocked a licensed firecracker factory in Sarai Barai village in Tikaitnagar of Uttar Pradesh on Thursday. Police suspect that something inside the unit triggered the blast, which caused a major fire and sent thick smoke billowing into the sky. The incident created panic among villagers, while police and firefighters rushed to the spot to control the situation and rescue the injured.

Army-IAF hold joint drill on Himalayan belt

Itanagar

The Indian Army and Air Force are carrying out a major joint combat exercise in Arunachal Pradesh's high-altitude Himalayan region to test operational readiness and coordination, officials said on Thursday. The drill, which began on November 10, includes the use of helicopters, UAVs, space-based systems, and special forces for surveillance and target simulation. Lt Gen Abhijit S Pendharkar, GoC of 3 Corps, reviewed the exercise and praised the strong teamwork and preparedness displayed.

K'taka policies deepen cane growers' crises: Joshi

The state cannot ignore central reforms and then blame the Centre for its own shortcomings, says the Union Minister

NEW DELHI

Union Minister for Food and Civil Supplies Pralhad Joshi has strongly criticised the Karnataka government for failing to address the hardships of sugarcane farmers.

In an open letter to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, he said the state cannot ignore central reforms and then blame the Centre for its own shortcomings.

Joshi stated that while the central government has maintained fair pricing and promoted market stability, the state is responsible for payments, irrigation, and subsidy management. He said farmers' troubles mainly stem from lapses in state policies.

He noted that Karnataka still operates under a 2017-18 Power Purchase Agreement (PPA), unlike Maharashtra, which adopted a new one in April 2025. Without a new PPA, sugar mills lose steady income and face difficulties getting bank loans.

Joshi also highlighted that the state raised electricity charges twice — by 70 paise per unit in 2023 and another 36 paise in 2025. These hikes, along with increased diesel VAT, have badly hit the earnings of both farmers and sugar mills.

Skyrocketing water charges

Water charges for mills have reportedly jumped from ₹5 lakh to ₹1 crore per year. Transport costs have risen to ₹750–₹800 per ton, further burdening producers.

The minister reminded that the Centre's Fair and Remunerative Price (FRP) sets only a minimum limit, and states can announce higher State-Advised Prices (SAP). He urged Karnataka to take responsibility and act swiftly to protect farmers' interests.

Nationwide crackdown ensures smooth fertilizer supply

NEW DELHI

The Department of Fertilizers (DoF), in coordination with the Department of Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare (DA&FW), has carried out an extensive nationwide operation to secure fertilizer availability and protect farmers' interests during the 2025–26 Kharif and Rabi seasons. The initiative involved multiple joint meetings between central and state officials to strengthen the fertilizer supply chain.

District authorities, supported by state governments, conducted a record 3,17,054 inspections and raids to tackle black marketing, hoarding, and diversion. These actions led to 5,119 show-cause notices, 3,645 license cancellations or suspensions, and 418 FIRs. For hoarding, 667 notices and 202 license cancellations were issued, while diversion cases saw 2,991 notices and 451 cancellations.

Major states including Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Rajasthan, Maharashtra, Haryana, Punjab, Odisha, Chhattisgarh, and Gujarat led with strong enforcement. Uttar Pradesh alone carried out 28,273 inspections, issuing nearly 2,000 notices and registering 157 FIRs. Maharashtra followed with over 42,000 inspections and 1,000 license cancellations, while Rajasthan and Bihar also undertook major actions to ensure fair supply and price stability.

Centre and states jointly launched a massive enforcement drive during Kharif and Rabi 2025–26 to curb black marketing, hoarding, and diversion, protecting farmers and maintaining fertilizer availability.

To maintain quality, 3,544 notices were issued for suspected sub-standard fertilizers, resulting in 1,316 license suspensions and 60 FIRs. Continuous testing and digital monitoring ensured that only quality fertilizers reached farmers.

Commending the coordinated effort, the DoF lauded state and district teams for protecting farmers and maintaining transparency, urging stakeholders to report any irregularities to sustain fair fertilizer distribution nationwide.

MEASURES TAKEN

- The Department of Fertilizers coordinated major crackdown on black marketing, hoarding, and diversion to safeguard smooth fertilizer supply during Kharif and ongoing Rabi season 2025-26.
- Intensive inspections and legal actions by states ensure fair distribution and prevent malpractices.
- Coordinated quality enforcement removes sub-standard fertilizers and upholds farmer trust.
- Digital monitoring and real-time coordination reinforce availability, transparency, and accountability across India.

Sabarimala gold scam: SIT to grill ex-TDB secretary soon

PATHANAMTHITTA

The Special Investigation Team (SIT) investigating the loss of gold from Sabarimala temple will soon interrogate former Travancore Devaswom Board (TDB) secretary S. Jayashree, officials said on Thursday. Her anticipatory bail plea was rejected by the Pathanamthitta District and Principal Sessions Court earlier in the day.

Jayashree, the fourth accused in the case involving missing gold from the Dwarapalaka (guardian deity) idol plates, had earlier ignored a summons to appear before investigators. Instead, she had approached the Kerala High Court for anticipatory bail, which later directed her to the lower court.

During the hearing, Jayashree told the court she feared arrest and cited health issues, denying any role in the alleged gold theft. However, the SIT maintained that as TDB secretary in 2019, she signed an order allowing the Dwarapalaka plates to be handed to the prime accused, Unnikrishnan Potty.

Investigators allege that the plates were wrongly described as copper instead of gold-clad, enabling Potty to misappropriate the gold. The court, citing the seriousness of the offence, rejected her plea for protection from arrest.

So far, five people, including three TDB officials and a former president, have been arrested in the case. The SIT, acting on Kerala High Court directions, is probing two cases — one involving the Dwarapalaka idol plates and another linked to the Sreekovil (sanctum sanctorum) doorframe. The team will soon seek custody of former TDB president N. Vasu, arrested earlier this week.

Declare Saranda forest as a wildlife sanctuary: SC

NEW DELHI

The Supreme Court on Thursday ordered the Jharkhand government to officially notify 31,468.25 hectares of the Saranda forest as a wildlife sanctuary, stressing that the state cannot "run away from its duty." The directive came after the state repeatedly changed its stand before the apex court.

A Bench led by Chief Justice of India B.R. Gavai, along with Justice K. Vinod Chandran, delivered the order, noting that the state had earlier agreed the entire 31,468.25-hectare area, first declared a game sanctuary in 1968, contained no active mining and needed legal protection.

Rejecting Jharkhand's attempt to reduce the sanctuary area to 24,941.64 hectares, the court stated there was no valid reason for such a move. The judges pointed out that several affidavits filed by the state confirmed the absence of operational mines or diversion of forest land in the entire zone.

The court criticized the state's delay and inconsistent actions, calling its conduct "totally unfair." The Chief Secretary had been summoned earlier for failing to comply with previous court directions, which the Bench described as contemptuous.

The judgment cited a report from the Wildlife Institute of India, which described the region as "of immense ecological and biodiversity significance." It also referred to the Justice M.B. Shah Commission's findings on the environmental damage caused by illegal mining in the area, which forms part of the Singhbhum Elephant Reserve.

Reaffirming the state's constitutional duty under Articles 48A and 51A(g), the court said Jharkhand must declare the entire 31,468.25-hectare region as the Saranda Wildlife Sanctuary. Existing community rights, the court clarified, could continue under the Wildlife (Protection) Act.

Cong restricted to social media politics: MP CM

DEWAS

In a sharp criticism of the Congress party, Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Mohan Yadav on Thursday said that Congress leaders have restricted themselves to social media, which is why they have failed to win any elections in the state for the last 20 years.

Addressing a large gathering of farmers in Dewas, Yadav accused the Congress of opposing government efforts aimed at public welfare. He said the party questions the BJP government's celebrations of religious festivals and criticises schemes like Ladli Behna Yojana that provide direct financial support to women and farmers. "I don't understand why Congress leaders feel upset when money is transferred directly into the bank accounts of beneficiaries," Yadav remarked. He added that the opposition has lost connection with the people and that this disconnection has kept them away from power for two decades. "If Congress continues on this path, they will remain in opposition for the next 50 years," he said, without naming any specific leader. During the event, Yadav transferred ₹233 crore into the accounts of 1.33 lakh soybean farmers under the Bhavantar scheme. He described the initiative as a major step to ensure fair prices for farmers' produce and praised their contribution to building Madhya Pradesh's identity as the "soybean state."

Punjab cops bust ISI-backed grenade attack module

CHANDIGARH

In a major success, the Ludhiana Commissionerate Police have dismantled a Pakistan-based ISI-backed grenade attack module and arrested 10 individuals involved in the conspiracy, Punjab Director General of Police (DGP) Gaurav Yadav announced on Thursday.

The accused were identified as Kuldeep Singh, Shekhar Singh and Ajay Singh from Muktsar Sahib. Others, including Amrik Singh, Parminder, Vijay, Sukhjit Singh, Sukhwinder Singh, Karanveer Singh and Sajan Kumar, were brought on production warrants from various jails for their role as couriers and facilitators.

Police recovered one 86P Chinese hand grenade, a black kit and a pair of gloves from the accused. Preliminary investigations revealed that the module operated under the guidance of Pakistan-based handlers, who coordinated with three Malaysia-based operatives to deliver the grenade. Their task was to carry out an attack in a crowded area to spread fear and unrest in Punjab.

Ludhiana Police Commissioner Swapan Sharma said that an FIR was filed after intelligence inputs pointed to the suspects. Special teams were formed to act swiftly. Investigations identified the key foreign masterminds as Malaysia-based operatives Ajay "Malaysia", Jass Behbal and Pawandeep, who were in constant contact with local agents.

Vijay, brother of Ajay "Malaysia" and an inmate at Ganganagar Jail in Rajasthan, was also linked to the case. The probe further exposed the local network responsible for handling and transporting the grenade across Punjab.

Nitish Kumar reviews JD(U) warroom preparations

PATNA

Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar on Thursday made a surprise visit to the Janata Dal (United) headquarters in Patna to inspect the party's war room, set up to track counting trends ahead of the Bihar Assembly election results on Friday. Arriving unannounced, Nitish Kumar reviewed the final arrangements with senior party leaders and data monitoring teams. He spent about 10 minutes in the war room, examining the coordination process and issuing last-minute directions to ensure smooth monitoring of the vote-counting process. After the inspection, the Chief Minister returned to his official residence.

The JD(U) war room has been designed to provide booth-wise updates and real-time counting data from across Bihar. Nitish Kumar's visit is seen as a sign of confidence within the NDA camp, buoyed by exit poll predictions suggesting a comfortable majority for the alliance.

Earlier, on Wednesday, the Chief Minister offered prayers at Patna's Mahavir Temple and also visited a High Court, Mazar, and Gurudwara, in what political analysts described as a message of unity and gratitude ahead of the results.

As Bihar awaits the verdict, both the NDA and the Grand Alliance have gone into final-stage strategy mode. Nitish Kumar is said to be closely monitoring developments from Patna as political temperatures rise across the state.

Trinamool plans balanced candidate mix for 2026

KOLKATA

West Bengal's ruling Trinamool Congress (TMC) has started preparing a list of potential candidates for the 2026 Assembly elections, aiming to balance young and senior leaders.

Party insiders say this approach could put an end to the "old versus young" debate that had earlier caused internal tensions.

TMC General Secretary Abhishek Banerjee is reportedly leading the process. The candidate list is likely to feature several young faces, with the average age capped around 65 years. However, Chief Minister and party Chairperson Mamata Banerjee remains the key decision-maker. Known as the party's unifying force, her approval will be final on every candidate's name.

The internal rift between senior and young members had grown before the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, with protests against veteran MPs like Sudip Bandyopadhyay and Sougata Ray. Yet, Mamata stood by her choices, and all senior leaders were re-elected, silencing much of the dissent.

Sources say Abhishek has softened his earlier stance on age limits, appreciating the commitment of older leaders such as 81-year-old Sovandeb Chattopadhyay and 76-year-old Ashok Kumar Deb, who continue to serve actively.

The new selection strategy aims to blend youthful energy with experienced leadership.

HEALTH BOOST

India a key player in global health research: Min

NEW DELHI

India has become a key player in global health research over the past decade, driven by innovations like Rotavac, the COVID-19 vaccines, and initiatives such as MedTech Mitra, said Minister of State for Health and Family Welfare Anupriya Singh Patel on Thursday.

Speaking at the 2nd DHR-ICMR Health Research Excellence Summit 2025, Patel said that India's health research network has grown stronger under Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership. She praised the country's progress in developing and delivering large-scale medical solutions, making India more self-reliant in MedTech and biomedical innovation.

"India is no longer just innovating; it is providing solutions that reach people across all levels of society," she stated. Patel added that the government is committed to making science and research accessible to everyone, ensuring affordable and equitable healthcare for all citizens.

She also underlined the importance of evidence-based policymaking, noting that clinical guidelines and quality standards must be available to every healthcare professional. Patel said the nation stands at a "defining moment" in its healthcare journey and encouraged scientists to take the lead in developing future-ready technologies like AI-based precision medicine and advanced genomics.

Concluding her speech, Patel congratulated the researchers and award winners at the summit, saying, "India should not only contribute to global science but lead it."

Dr V.K. Paul, Member (Health) of NITI Aayog, noted that India's healthy life expectancy currently stands at 60 years. He said that under the Viksit Bharat vision, the Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR) aims to raise it above 75 years through advanced technologies and innovative healthcare solutions.

Dr Paul also urged the Department of Health Research (DHR) to focus on key health challenges like non-communicable diseases, hypertension, and trauma care.

Malnutrition cases decline in Thane district

Thane

Thane district has seen a steady fall in child malnutrition cases, officials said on Thursday. Government data shows Severe Acute Malnutrition (SaM) cases dropped from 146 in March 2022 to 90 by September 2025. Moderate Acute Malnutrition (MaM) cases also fell from 1,584 to 1,123 during the same period. Officials credited the regular distribution of supplementary nutrition through 3,561 Anganwadi centres for this progress. Collector Dr. Shrikrishna Panchal said Anganwadi workers need further training to sustain these improvements.

Trader duped of Rs 2.75 cr in fake mobile export deal

Thane

A Navi Mumbai trader has alleged a loss of Rs 2.75 crore in a fake mobile phone export deal, police said on Thursday. The 49-year-old businessman told Panvel Town police that he paid the amount to four accused, including three from Rajasthan, to export 600 iPhones through their company. However, the phones were neither exported nor was his money returned. Based on his complaint, police have registered a case of cheating and are investigating the matter.

Mukul Roy loses assembly membership

Kolkata

The Calcutta High Court on Thursday disqualified senior leader Mukul Roy from the West Bengal Assembly under the anti-defection law. Roy, who won on a BJP ticket in 2021, had joined the Trinamool Congress later that year in the presence of Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee. A division bench led by Justice Debangsu Basak gave the verdict on petitions filed by BJP leaders Suvendu Adhikari and Ambika Roy, challenging the Speaker's earlier refusal to disqualify Roy.

Defence ministry signs ₹2,095 cr deal for anti-tank missiles

It aims to boost T-90 tank firepower through the purchase of advanced INVAR anti-tank missiles

NEW DELHI

In a major step towards strengthening India's armoured defence capability, the Ministry of Defence (MoD) on Thursday signed a contract worth Rs 2,095.70 crore with Bharat Dynamics Limited (BDL) for the procurement of INVAR Anti-Tank Missiles under the 'Buy (Indian)' category.

The agreement was signed at South Block in the presence of Defence Secretary Rajesh Kumar Singh, along with senior officials of the MoD and representatives from BDL, a state-owned defence enterprise.

According to the Ministry,

the induction of these missiles will greatly enhance the firepower and strike precision of the Indian Army's T-90 tanks, which form the backbone of India's Armoured Regiments. The INVAR missile is a highly advanced, laser-guided weapon with exceptional hit accuracy and lethality.

The MoD said the system will "transform mechanised warfare and offer a significant operational edge over adversaries." Designed to be fired directly from the T-90 tank's gun barrel, the missile can effectively destroy armoured vehicles fitted with Explosive Reactive Armour.

Key technical features include a 125 mm calibre, 5 km range, semi-automatic control, and a tandem warhead that is resistant to jamming. It can strike both stationary and moving targets travelling up to 70 kmph, ensuring high kill probability in combat.

The signing of this deal comes amid heightened border tensions and follows recent military exercises like Operation Sindoor. The contract not only strengthens national defence but also reinforces the government's commitment to self-reliance in defence production under the 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat' initiative by promoting indigenous technology and public sector expertise.

HDK pushes for multi-district industrial parks in K'taka

Union Minister Piyush Goyal responds positively to HDK's proposal; Centre assures large-scale action

NEW DELHI

Union Minister for Heavy Industries and Steel HD Kumaraswamy has submitted a detailed proposal to Union Minister for Commerce and Industry Piyush Goyal, demanding the establishment of industrial parks across Karnataka.

The plan aims to create balanced regional growth and promote large-scale employment through well-planned industrial clusters.

The proposal identifies Mandya, Mysuru, Bidar, Raichur, Hubli–Dharwad, Hassan, Kolar, Mangaluru, and Chamarajanagar as high-potential districts for industrial development. Each region offers unique resources, strong logistics links, and diverse economic opportunities. Kumaraswamy emphasised that developing Industrial Parks in these areas would help attract private investment and bridge the industrial gap between northern and southern Karnataka.

The representation also suggested that the parks be brought under the National Industrial Corridor Development Programme (NICDP), which connects major growth centres across India. Integrating Karnataka's key districts into these corridors would, officials said, accelerate infrastructure upgrades and improve connectivity for goods and exports.

Positive response from Centre

Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal appreciated the proposal and assured full support from the Union Government. He said the initiative aligns with Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision to strengthen India's manufacturing base and enhance global competitiveness.

Employment and balanced growth

The new parks are expected to create thousands of jobs, develop sector-based clusters, and strengthen regional supply chains. Hubli–Dharwad and Mangaluru are likely to focus on logistics and manufacturing, Raichur on agri-processing, and Mysuru and Kolar on value-added industries.

This initiative marks a significant stride in Karnataka's effort to achieve inclusive, regionally balanced, and sustainable industrial growth.

Argentina, Ireland, US, Singapore Condemn Delhi Blast

NEW DELHI

Argentina has termed the recent explosion near Delhi's Red Fort as a "terrorist attack", extending strong support to India.

Argentina's Ambassador to India, Mariano Caucino, said his country stands firmly with India and Prime Minister Narendra Modi in this difficult time. Condemning terrorism as "unacceptable," he said Argentina joins all peace-loving nations in rejecting violence in every form.

Caucino recalled Argentina's past tragedies — the 1992 Israeli Embassy blast and the 1994 AMIA Jewish Centre attack — that killed 100 people. "We have not forgotten those losses," he said, stressing that President Javier Milei firmly rejects terror as a political weapon.

Echoing this, Ireland's Ambassador Kevin Kelly expressed condolences and said terrorism "has no place in society." He wished speedy recovery to the injured and assured Ireland's solidarity with the victims' families.

Singapore's Foreign Minister Vivian Balakrishnan also condemned the car explosion near Red Fort, calling it a "terror incident." He expressed sympathy for the victims and reaffirmed Singapore's support for India.

US Secretary of State Marco Rubio said the blast was "clearly a terrorist attack." He praised India's swift investigation and offered American assistance, though he said India is fully capable of handling the probe.

Meanwhile, the Union Cabinet, led by Prime Minister Modi, mourned the victims and directed agencies to complete the investigation urgently. The National Investigation Agency (NIA) is leading the probe into the November 10 car explosion that killed 12 and injured several near Red Fort.

ED gets 5-day custody of Jaypee ex-CMD Gaur

NEW DELHI

A Special Delhi Court on Thursday remanded Manoj Gaur, former Chairman and Managing Director of Jaypee Infratech Limited (JIL), to five-day custody of the Enforcement Directorate (ED) for detailed questioning in a money laundering case linked to alleged diversion of funds from homebuyers.

The Patiala House Court accepted the ED's request, stating that custodial interrogation was necessary to trace the flow of money collected from thousands of homebuyers who never received their promised flats. Gaur, who also served as the Executive Chairman and CEO of Jaiprakash Associates Ltd. (JAL), was arrested earlier in the day under Section 19 of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002.

According to the ED, the Jaypee Group collected around Rs 14,599 crore from homebuyers of projects such as Jaypee Wishtown and Jaypee Greens, but large portions of the funds were allegedly diverted for non-construction purposes. Investigations revealed that the money was siphoned off to group entities including Jaypee Sewa Sansthan (JSS), Jaypee Healthcare Ltd. (JHL), and Jaypee Sports International Ltd. (JSIL).

The agency also stated that Gaur, as the Managing Trustee of JSS, was responsible for overseeing one of the entities that received part of the diverted funds. Multiple FIRs filed by the Economic Offences Wings (EOW) of Delhi and Uttar Pradesh led to the current probe, citing cheating, criminal conspiracy, and breach of trust by the company's promoters.

2 Mathura cops suspended for negligence

MATHURA

Two sub-inspectors from the Farah police station in Mathura district have been suspended for alleged negligence in handling a rape complaint involving an eight-year-old girl.

Senior Superintendent of Police (SSP) Shlok Kumar said both officers—Anirudh Kumar and Satish Kumar—failed to register the case under the appropriate sections and have been suspended immediately. A probe has also been ordered into the role of Station House Officer (SHO) Triloki Singh.

According to the SSP, the victim's father had filed a complaint on November 11, alleging that a man named Kanha alias Yogesh from their village lured his daughter into his house and raped her on September 22. He claimed that despite approaching the Farah police on October 7, the officers refused to register a case under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act and the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS). Instead, the police booked the accused only for possessing an illegal firearm.

The complainant further alleged that police officers pressured him to reach a settlement. When he refused, the accused was arrested under the firearm charge on October 14 but later released on bail on October 27. On seeing the accused return to the village, the victim's father discovered that no rape case had been filed and again approached senior officials.

Following this, the SSP directed Deputy Superintendent of Police (Cyber Crime) Gunjan Singh to investigate. Based on the inquiry, a new FIR was filed on November 10 under sections 5(m)/6 of the POCSO Act and Section 65(2) of the BNS. The accused was later arrested in Vrindavan.

The SSP added that the accused's uncle, Om Prakash, who allegedly threatened the victim's father, has also been arrested. Further legal and departmental action will follow the inquiry.

India must target sustainable energy future: Bery

NEW DELHI

India's vision of Viksit Bharat (Developed India) must rest on affordable, sustainable, and resilient energy systems, said NITI Aayog Vice Chairman Suman Bery on Thursday.

Speaking at the CII Energy Security Conference, Bery emphasised that India's development goals go beyond economic growth to creating an inclusive society driven by energy access and sustainability.

"Energy security is not just about supply; it is about affordability, diversification, and resilience," he said, stressing that the future will depend on scaling up existing technologies like solar, hydrogen, and renewables rather than relying solely on new inventions.

Bery called for a rethinking of India's energy market structure, particularly in hydrocarbons, advocating a balanced role for both public and private sectors to boost efficiency and innovation. He underlined that India's climate commitments arise from conviction, not external pressure, and must balance environmental priorities with affordability and industrial competitiveness.

He described energy security as both a diplomatic and structural challenge, noting that global unpredictability in energy markets can affect national choices. Bery highlighted that while India has achieved major progress in electricity access, maintaining affordability is crucial to avoid a high-cost energy trap.

DRUG CRISIS NE

'NE facing 'public health emergency' from drug menace'

DIMAPUR

Nagaland Director General of Police (DGP) Rupin Sharma has warned that drug trafficking in the Northeast has become both a "public health emergency" and a "national security threat." Speaking at the two-day Conference of Anti-Narcotics Task Forces (ANTF) in Chumoukedima on Thursday, he urged for a unified and technology-driven approach among states.

Sharma said the Northeast has become the centre of India's anti-drug campaign due to its open border with Myanmar and closeness to the Golden Triangle. He noted that Nagaland alone has about 1.2 lakh drug users, mostly addicted to heroin, locally called "Shaanflower."

He explained that even minimal daily use results in huge yearly consumption, worsening the drug crisis. The illegal trade, he warned, fuels organised crime, insurgency, and narco-terrorism. "Dismantling drug cartels is essential for national security," he stated.

To tackle the problem, Sharma proposed a three-point plan — coordination, enforcement, and accountability. He called for real-time information sharing, use of modern tools like darknet tracking, and stricter financial monitoring with banks.

Highlighting weak prosecution, he said proper documentation and shared criminal databases are vital for conviction. Sharma suggested changes to the NDPS Act, a regional anti-drug agency, and new forensic labs across the Northeast.

He also stressed the role of NGOs, churches, and communities in rehabilitation. "A recovered addict is a success story for society," he said, urging collective action for a truly drug-free Northeast.

Gujarat ATS arrests 2 former UP Madrassa students

MUZAFFARNAGAR

Two youths from Uttar Pradesh, arrested by the Gujarat Anti-Terrorism Squad (ATS) for suspected links to terrorist activities, had earlier studied together at a madrassa in Budhana town of Muzaffarnagar district, officials said on Thursday.

The accused were identified as Azad Suleman Sheikh (20), a tailor from Jhinjhana in Shamli district, and Mohammad Suhail Khan (23) from Lakhimpur Kheri. According to the madrassa management and police sources, both had pursued Hafiz-e-Quran (Quran memorisation) courses before leaving at different times.

Maulana Daud, the mohtamim (head) of the madrassa, confirmed their past association with the institution but said they left well before their arrests. "Azad studied here from 2018 to 2019 and stopped coming when the madrassa closed during the COVID-19 lockdown. Suhail joined three months ago but left on November 5, saying his father was unwell," Daud told reporters.

He stressed that the madrassa provides only religious education and has "no link with any illegal activity." He said he learned about their arrests only through media reports.

Sheikh's father, Suleman, who works as a construction labourer, claimed his son was innocent. "He had gone on a 40-day Tablighi Jamaat trip to West Bengal and later said he was returning to the madrassa. We later found out about his arrest from the news," he said.

Shamli Superintendent of Police N.P. Singh confirmed that Sheikh was taken into custody by the Gujarat ATS for interrogation, while the Uttar Pradesh ATS is also probing his background. "No passport has been found in his name. His financial and local connections are being verified," Singh said.

The Gujarat ATS arrested both men on November 8, though officials have withheld further details, citing an ongoing investigation.

India-Spain hold talks to strengthen bilateral ties

NEW DELHI

India and Spain on Thursday held the 8th round of Foreign Office Consultations in New Delhi, reviewing the full range of their bilateral relationship and discussing key regional and global issues of shared interest.

The meeting was co-chaired by Sibi George, Secretary (West) in the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA), and Diego Martínez Belio, Spain's Secretary of State for Foreign and Global Affairs. Both sides explored avenues to deepen cooperation in trade, defence, culture, and emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence.

In a post on social media platform X, MEA spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said, "The two sides reviewed the entire spectrum of bilateral ties, especially in the context of the upcoming India-Spain Year of Culture, Tourism and Artificial Intelligence.

Bangladesh awaits ICT verdict on Hasina case

Dhaka

Bangladesh's International Crimes Tribunal (ICT) will announce its verdict on November 17 in the case against former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina, accused of crimes against humanity during last year's July uprising. The decision comes amid a nationwide lockdown called by the banned Awami League, disrupting life across Dhaka and beyond. Security forces and the army have tightened control at airports and key sites. Reports of arson and explosions continue, while arrests of party leaders rise. Hasina, ousted in 2024's student-led revolt, fled to India before Nobel laureate Mohd Yunus formed the current interim government.

Civilian Killed as Thailand-Cambodia Border Tensions Escalate

Phnom Penh

Tensions flared again along the Thailand-Cambodia border after a deadly exchange of gunfire left one Cambodian civilian dead and three injured. Cambodia condemned what it called an "unprovoked attack" by Thai forces in Banteay Meanchey province, filing a formal protest. Thailand, however, accused Cambodian troops of firing first near Sa Kaeo province. The clash followed Thailand's suspension of a recent US-backed peace treaty signed during the ASEAN Summit. Thai Prime Minister Anutin Charnvirakul vowed to act "as we see fit," while both nations reinforced troops along the disputed frontier, raising fears of renewed border conflict.

South Korea pledges stronger human rights protections

Seoul

South Korean President Lee Jae Myung met with families of democracy activists on Thursday, promising stronger protections for human rights. Speaking at a luncheon marking the 40th anniversary of the association for relatives of those jailed or tortured during the 1970s–80s pro-democracy movements, Lee acknowledged the suffering endured under past dictatorships. He praised the mothers who led protests and said South Korea has become a respected democratic nation thanks to their efforts.

Donald Trump signs bill, ending America's longest govt shutdown

The shutdown halted air travel, food programs, and federal pay and the new legislation restarts services

NEW YORK

The United States' longest-ever government shutdown has officially ended after President Donald Trump signed legislation passed by Congress to temporarily fund federal operations. The 42-day standoff between Republicans and Democrats finally broke when the House approved the Senate-backed bill to reopen government functions.

The shutdown had frozen key services like air travel, food assistance programs, and federal pay. With the new legislation, these operations will restart, though it may take some time for full recovery. Federal employees, including those who worked without pay, will now receive their pending salaries.

Trump hailed the moment as a "great day," declaring it a victory for Republicans since they secured the funding bill without conceding to Democratic demands over Obamacare subsidies. The deadlock ended when eight Democrats joined Republicans in a crucial Senate vote earlier this week.

The funding will last until the end of the year, with certain programs like aid for retired soldiers and food support for about 42 million Americans extended until September. The House passed the measure 222–209, mostly along party lines. Democratic leaders admitted frustration but said they aimed to avoid further harm to citizens dependent on federal aid. Congresswoman Marie Gluesenkamp Perez, one of six Democrats who crossed the aisle, said people "shouldn't trade their dinner for a political message."

President Trump used the occasion to urge voters not to forget the shutdown during next year's midterm elections. Meanwhile, Democrats promised to push again for expanding health insurance subsidies when the next budget negotiations begin.

French Minister plans Algeria visit as ties improve

Sansal, a well-known critic of Algerian authorities, was arrested in November 2024, sentenced to five years in March 2025, and pardoned Wednesday, easing Algiers-Paris tensions

PARIS

France's Interior Minister Laurent Nunez said on Thursday that he was likely to visit Algeria soon, signalling a thaw in relations between the two nations. The announcement followed Algeria's release of French-Algerian writer Boualem Sansal, who had been jailed for undermining national unity.

Sansal, a prominent critic of Algerian authorities, was arrested in November 2024 and sentenced in March 2025 to five years in prison. His pardon on Wednesday by President Abdelmadjid Tebboune eased months of diplomatic tension between Algiers and Paris. Speaking to France's BFM TV, Nunez described Sansal's release as "a glimmer of hope" and said President Emmanuel Macron had personally thanked Tebboune during a phone call. He added that France aimed to restart "a demanding but necessary dialogue" focused on security and cooperation.

Relations between the two countries had sharply deteriorated after France recognised Morocco's sovereignty over Western Sahara, a move Algeria opposed. The situation worsened after Sansal's arrest and other disputes over migration and repatriation. Tensions peaked earlier this year when an Algerian national—whom France had unsuccessfully sought to deport—was accused of carrying out a deadly knife attack in Mulhouse. The incident led French officials to reconsider migration and visa policies toward Algeria. Nunez said his upcoming visit would aim to reopen communication channels and address key issues, including security coordination and migration. "The tug-of-war strategy does not work," he said. "We need dialogue, not deadlock." Observers see Sansal's release and the possible ministerial visit as the first positive signs of improving ties between France and its former colony.

China's Foreign Ministry condemned Takaichi's remarks as an interference

China demands Japan retract remarks on Taiwan

BEIJING

China's Foreign Ministry on Thursday urged Japanese Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi to withdraw what it called "egregious" remarks about Taiwan, warning that Japan must "bear all consequences" if she fails to do so. The demand follows Takaichi's statement in parliament last week suggesting that a Chinese attack on Taiwan could be considered a "survival-threatening situation" for Japan, potentially leading to a military response from Tokyo.

China's Foreign Ministry on Thursday demanded Japanese Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi retract "egregious" remarks about Taiwan, warning Japan would "bear all consequences" if it intervened militarily. Beijing condemned her comments as interference.

Foreign Ministry spokesperson Lin Jian said at a press conference that Takaichi's comments represented "crude interference" in China's internal affairs and had caused "a heavy blow" to bilateral ties. "Should Japan dare to intervene militarily in the Taiwan Strait situation, it will constitute an act of aggression, and China will strike back decisively," Lin warned.

Beijing maintains that Taiwan is part of its territory and has not ruled out using force to bring the island under its control. Taiwan's government rejects China's claim, insisting that only its citizens have the right to decide their future.

Tensions have continued to rise, with Chinese state media escalating criticism of Takaichi. A social media post by an account linked to CCTV labelled her a "troublemaker" and warned she would "have to pay the price."

In Japan, anger has grown over inflammatory remarks made by China's Consul General in Osaka, Xue Jian, who posted that "the dirty head that sticks itself in must be cut off." Japanese Foreign Minister Toshimitsu Motegi condemned the comment as "regrettable" and said Tokyo would urge Beijing to prevent the dispute from further damaging bilateral relations.

Russia warns Ukraine talks inevitable amid war

MOSCOW

The Kremlin has said that Ukraine will have to negotiate with Russia "sooner or later," warning that Kyiv's position in any talks will weaken with time. Speaking to reporters on Thursday, Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov stated that Russia remains open to political and diplomatic discussions but would continue its military actions if peace efforts fail. He emphasized that Moscow's goal is to ensure the country's security for future generations.

Russian troops are currently trying to capture the city of Pokrovsk in eastern Ukraine. Earlier this month, Russia's Defence Ministry claimed control of the village of Uspenivka in the Zaporizhzhia region. Moscow has repeatedly accused Ukraine of avoiding peace talks. However, Kyiv maintains that Russia's terms are unacceptable, saying they amount to surrender. Ukrainian leaders have insisted that any peace deal must include a full withdrawal of Russian forces from occupied territories.

Peskov said Ukraine's refusal to negotiate would only make its situation worse. "The Ukrainian side should know that sooner or later it will have to negotiate, but from a much worse position," he said.

B'desh to hold referendum with national elections

DHAKA

Bangladesh's Chief Advisor, Muhammad Yunus, announced that a national referendum on the July National Charter will be held alongside the country's parliamentary elections in the first half of February 2026. The decision, approved during an Advisor's Council meeting, marks a major step toward implementing the reform roadmap born out of the July 2024 mass uprising. In a televised address, Yunus said the referendum would allow citizens to vote on the July Charter, which proposes significant political and constitutional changes. These include forming a caretaker government during election periods, creating an independent Election Commission, and establishing a bicameral parliament with a 100-member upper house based on proportional representation.

The Charter also proposes 30 reform measures covering women's representation, parliamentary oversight, judicial independence, local governance, and limits on a Prime Minister's tenure. If approved, a Constitution Reform Council will be created from the newly elected parliament to finalize the amendments within 180 working days, followed by the establishment of the upper house within 30 days.

Yunus highlighted the interim government's achievements over the past 15 months, noting progress in strengthening the judiciary, fighting corruption, and improving the economy. Exports, reserves, and foreign investments have all shown growth during this period.

He called for unity among political parties that supported last year's uprising, urging them to avoid divisions that could harm Bangladesh's democratic transition. "The spirit that united the nation in 2024 must guide us again," Yunus said, expressing hope that the country will move toward a peaceful and festive election, entering what he described as "a new Bangladesh."

Truck crashes into market, two killed in Korea

SEOUL

Two people were killed and 18 others injured when a light truck crashed into a busy market in Bucheon, a city located about 20 kilometres west of Seoul, on Thursday. The truck sped through a narrow passage lined with market stalls for nearly 150 metres before coming to a stop, according to emergency officials and South Korean media reports.

A fire department official said two victims went into cardiac arrest and were later pronounced dead. CCTV footage broadcast by Korean television showed the blue truck suddenly accelerating through the crowded market, striking several stalls before crashing into a shop.

According to initial reports, the vehicle had reversed about 28 metres before surging forward uncontrollably. The driver, a man in his 60s, told police that the truck experienced a sudden burst of acceleration.

Marcos vows jail for graft scandal suspects

MANILA

Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos Jr. has vowed to jail those linked to a major corruption scandal involving government infrastructure projects, promising they will be behind bars before the end of the year. The scandal, which centers on substandard and allegedly fake flood-control projects, has sparked public outrage and mass protests across the country.

"They won't have a Merry Christmas," Marcos declared during a televised press conference as he displayed names of accused public works officials and construction executives under investigation by the country's anti-graft commission.

Earlier this year, the president formed a special commission to probe billions of pesos' worth of questionable flood-control projects, many of which were found to be poorly built or never completed. The issue resurfaced after recent typhoons caused widespread flooding, fueling anger among citizens and activists who accuse officials of stealing disaster funds.

The controversy has also shaken economic confidence, with growth in the third quarter falling to a four-year low of 4 percent. Infrastructure spending plunged 26.2 percent, its sharpest decline in nearly 14 years, partly due to tighter spending checks.

Marcos said the government will accelerate spending toward year's end to meet planned targets. So far, authorities have frozen 6.3 billion pesos ($108 million) in assets belonging to suspects, with plans to recover the funds for public use.

Framing the crackdown as part of a larger push for transparency, Marcos—whose late father was once accused of large-scale corruption—said his administration would not tolerate abuse of public money.

Afghanistan blames Pakistan as Turkey talks fail

KABUL

Afghanistan's Foreign Minister Amir Khan Muttaqi has accused Pakistan of causing the collapse of recent peace talks in Turkey, calling Islamabad's demands "unrealistic and unreasonable." Speaking in Kabul, Muttaqi confirmed that the Afghan delegation had returned home after the third round of negotiations ended without progress.

He alleged that Pakistan repeatedly violated Afghanistan's sovereignty through airstrikes and border attacks, claiming Afghan civilians and markets were targeted. "Even the airspace of Kabul was violated, leaving us with no choice but to respond," Muttaqi said.

According to Afghan officials, Pakistan demanded Kabul guarantee that no security incidents occur within its borders — a condition Afghanistan rejected. "How can we be responsible for Pakistan's internal security?" Muttaqi questioned, accusing Islamabad of trying to shift blame for its internal failures.

He further alleged that Pakistan proposed relocating Tehrik-i-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) fighters into Afghanistan, which he described as an attempt to "create chaos." Kabul also accused Pakistan of allowing ISIS militants to cross the border and of ignoring Afghan calls to stop its airspace violations.

The Taliban government said its delegation had attended all three rounds of talks "in good faith," but Pakistan "abandoned" discussions and refused basic Afghan demands to end air incursions and prevent ISIS movement.

Taliban spokesperson Zabihullah Mujahid criticised Pakistan's handling of Afghan refugees, saying a "nuclear power is using strength against onions and tomatoes."

India, Botswana strengthen ties through wildlife conservation move

GABORONE

In a major step toward strengthening India-Botswana cooperation in wildlife conservation, President Droupadi Murmu and Botswana's President Duma Gideon Boko witnessed the release of cheetahs into the Mokolodi Nature Reserve in southern Botswana. The animals were captured from the Ghanzi region and placed in a quarantine facility by experts from both nations.

The ceremony marked Botswana's gifting of eight cheetahs to India as part of the next phase of Project Cheetah, aimed at restoring the species in India's natural habitats. Sharing the news on X, the President's Secretariat described it as a new chapter in the friendship between the two nations.

During her visit, President Murmu met President Boko in Gaborone, where both leaders discussed expanding cooperation in trade, investment, renewable energy, agriculture, education, healthcare, defence, and digital technology. A key agreement was also signed to provide Botswana with easier access to affordable, high-quality Indian medicines.

President Murmu thanked the Botswana government and its people for their generous contribution to India's wildlife project. President Boko, in turn, praised India as the "mother of democracy" and recognized its steady role in supporting Botswana's development journey.

President Murmu arrived in Botswana on Tuesday for a State Visit, concluding her two-nation African tour. She was warmly received at the airport by President Boko and given a ceremonial welcome with a guard of honour, highlighting the deep respect and growing partnership between the two friendly nations.

India to stay fastest-growing major economy

New Delhi

India is expected to remain the fastest-growing economy among the G20 nations with a growth rate of 6.5 per cent through 2027, despite the Donald Trump administration's tariff hikes, according to Moody's latest 'Global Macro Outlook report for 2026-27'. The report states that the pace of India's growth will be supported by robust infrastructure investment, strong domestic consumer demand, and export diversification. Indian exporters, facing 50 per cent US tariffs on some products, have succeeded in redirecting exports, with overall exports climbed 6.75 per cent in September.

85% of Indian businesses see Saudi as desired hub

Mumbai

At least 85% of Indian businesses, the highest among surveyed markets, see Saudi Arabia as a more attractive destination for trade and investment amidst global uncertainties, a report showed on Thursday. Moreover, 78 per cent of Indian businesses are planning to increase investments in Saudi Arabia in the next six months – representing the highest level of commitment among any market outside the Middle East. Indian business leaders are showing a strong intent to increasing trade and investment with Saudi Arabia. This aligns with the Kingdom's Vision 2030 plan, which aims to build a resilient, stable economy with attractive growth opportunities.

Hyundai-India explore maritime collab under 'Amrit Kaal Vision'

HD Hyundai expressed a keen interest in leveraging its technological expertise and global experience to contribute to India's maritime growth

SEOUL

South Korea's leading shipbuilding conglomerate, HD Hyundai, announced on Thursday that its Chairman, Chung Ki-sun, held talks with India's Union Minister for Petroleum and Natural Gas, Hardeep Singh Puri, to discuss expanding cooperation in the shipbuilding and maritime industries.

The meeting took place in Seoul as part of India's ambitious Maritime Amrit Kaal Vision 2047 project, which aims to transform India into one of the world's top five shipbuilding nations. The initiative envisions expanding the country's fleet of commercial vessels from the current 1,500 to 2,500 over the next two decades. To achieve this, the Indian government plans to invest around $24 billion, with an initial allocation of $8 billion announced in October to support new vessel construction and shipyard modernization.

During the discussions, both sides explored potential partnerships in advanced shipbuilding technologies, green maritime infrastructure, and sustainable energy use within the sector. HD Hyundai expressed a keen interest in leveraging its technological expertise and global experience to contribute to India's maritime growth.

HD Hyundai will be the best partner to help advance India's shipbuilding industry based on mutual trust, Chairman Chung Ki-sun said in an official statement. Minister Puri, leading the Indian delegation, emphasized that regular exchanges between the Indian government and HD Hyundai would help foster innovation, create skilled jobs, and strengthen bilateral cooperation in the broader maritime ecosystem.

The talks reflect India's growing focus on maritime development as part of its vision for economic self-reliance and global competitiveness, with South Korea emerging as a key strategic partner in this endeavor.

'Negative growth awaits Nepal amid political turmoil'

KATHMANDU

Nepal's economy is expected to decelerate sharply in the current fiscal year 2025–26 due to the lingering impact of September's violent protests and ensuing political instability, the World Bank said on Thursday in its Nepal Development Update: Reforms to Accelerate Public Investment.

According to the report, Nepal's economic growth is projected to fall to 2.1 per cent in FY 2025–26, down from 4.6% recorded in FY 2024–25. The slowdown reflects the widespread damage caused by Gen-Z–led protests earlier this year, which toppled the government of former Prime Minister K. P. Sharma Oli. The subsequent formation of a non-political transitional government led by Sushila Karki, tasked with conducting elections on March 5, 2026, has created additional uncertainty.

The September unrest claimed over 70 lives and resulted in the destruction of both public and private properties worth billions of Nepali rupees. Several government offices, private enterprises, and financial institutions were set ablaze during the protests, severely disrupting economic activity across major cities.

'Nepal's economic growth is projected to fall to 2.1 per cent in FY 2025–26, down from 4.6% recorded in FY 2024–25'.

The World Bank highlighted that the services sector, particularly tourism and insurance, will bear the brunt of the slowdown. The report noted a sharp decline in international tourist arrivals and the spillover effects of asset losses on the insurance industry.

Furthermore, the Bank cautioned that poverty reduction efforts have been adversely affected, with the poverty rate (measured at USD 4.2/day) expected to rise to 6.6 per cent in FY 2025–26 from 6.2 per cent earlier projected.

However, the Bank remains cautiously optimistic about recovery, projecting a rebound to 4.7 per cent growth in FY 2026–27 as reconstruction efforts gain traction. Finance Minister Rameshore Prasad Khanal said the government has introduced an Integrated Business Recovery Plan offering grants, tax incentives, and operational support to restore business confidence and accelerate economic revival.

TN set up AVGC-XR Centre to fast-track futuristic techs

CHENNAI

In a major move to accelerate its digital media and emerging technology ecosystem, the Tamil Nadu government, under the leadership of Chief Minister M.K. Stalin, has announced plans to establish the Viyan AVGC-XR Centre of Excellence (CoE) in Chennai.

The initiative, spearheaded by the Electronics Corporation of Tamil Nadu (ELCOT), aims to position the state as a national hub for animation, visual effects, gaming, comics, and extended reality (AVGC-XR). ELCOT has issued an Expression of Interest (EoI) this week, inviting partnerships from industry players, academic institutions, and technology firms for the centre's development, operation, and long-term management.

Designed as a flagship project, the Viyan CoE seeks to create a world-class environment that fosters innovation, supports content creation, and provides young professionals with future-ready skills in the fast-evolving AVGC-XR sector.

In its initial phase, the centre will operate from a leased facility spanning 12,000 to 15,000 sq. ft. in Chennai. It will feature co-working spaces, private studios for startups and MSMEs, and specialized labs for performance capture, 2D and 3D art, audio and foley services, and XR testing. Hardware rental facilities will give creators access to advanced production equipment, while community spaces and screening rooms will host workshops, networking events, and collaborations.

In the second phase, the project will expand to a one-lakh sq. ft. purpose-built campus capable of accommodating around 500 professionals. This state-of-the-art facility will house advanced studios for quality assurance, XR development, and digital prototyping, establishing an integrated ecosystem for creators, developers, and entrepreneurs.

The initiative reflects the Tamil Nadu government's vision to make Chennai a leading destination for digital innovation, creative industries, and immersive technology development in India.

SBI: Overhaul of core banking system by FY28

The modernization is being carried out by the bank and its subsidiary SBI Payments Services, said the seniormost managing director of the bank Ashwini Kumar Tewari, who handles corporate banking and subsidiaries, in Singapore on Thursday. He said the overhaul involves transforming the bank's legacy systems through hollowing, microservices and modernization.w

Trump sends +ve signals on US-India relations

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump has sent positive signals on strengthening US-India relations this week, raising fresh hopes that a bilateral trade agreement between the world's two largest democracies could be signed soon. Trump told reporters at the White House that his talks with Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi were going great and that a visit to Delhi could take place next year.

Earlier this week, Trump said that he plans to lower tariffs imposed on India at some point indicating that a breakthrough in the trade talks could come soon. I think we're pretty close to doing a deal (with India) that's good for everybody, Trump said, in answer to a question from the media, at the ceremony for swearing-in of Sergio Gor as the new US Ambassador to India.

While some Indian officials have been optimistic over the India-US trade agreement being signed soon, Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal said on Tuesday that India would not compromise on the interests of farmers, dairy sector and workers in trade deals that it signs with other countries. We are working on a fair, equitable and balanced trade deal, he said.

The minister further stated that the timing of such deals would depend on mutual readiness. The trade deal can happen tomorrow, it can happen next month, it can happen next year... but as a government, we are preparing for any contingency, he added.

As per sources, Harsh Pant, a professor of international relations at King's College London, as saying that Trump's visit would signal a rebound in the relationship between Delhi and Washington.

Star Air raises Rs 150 cr in Series B round

MUMBAI

Star Air, the aviation arm of the Sanjay Ghodawat Group (SGG), said on Thursday that it has completed the first tranche of its Rs 350 crore Series B funding round, raising Rs 150 crore from a consortium of marquee investors including Micro labs Ltd, Deepak Agarwal of Bikaji foods and others. The airline further plans to raise an additional Rs 200 crore by FY26-27.

Star Air said that its first external fundraise will power the next phase of expansion with a goal to operate 50 aircraft by 2030.

The newly raised capital will be deployed to expand the airline's fleet and route network, strengthen NSOP (Non-Scheduled Operator Permit) operations and enhance its MRO (Maintenance, Repair & Overhaul) capabilities.

'India's fin sector remains robust amid global shakes'

NEW DELHI

Global banks are expected to maintain a stable outlook in 2026 despite mounting political and economic uncertainties, according to a report released by S&P Global Ratings on Thursday.

The report noted that while geopolitical tensions and policy shifts could disrupt global markets, structural improvements and sound economic fundamentals are helping India's financial institutions remain resilient.

Banks are operating in volatile times when significant policy decisions and regional conflicts could disrupt financial markets and rapidly change the economic environment, said Emmanuel Volland, S&P Global Ratings credit analyst.

The agency forecasted that global bank credit losses will rise to $655 billion in 2026, marking a 7.5 per cent year-on-year increase. The bulk of these losses are expected to stem from the Asia-Pacific region, particularly due to tariff-related uncertainties affecting China's small and micro-enterprise lending and unsecured consumer credit. However, the report emphasized that these losses remain manageable owing to strong profitability and stricter prudential frameworks introduced in recent years.

For India, S&P Global highlighted that while stress points have emerged in unsecured personal and microfinance loans, underwriting standards for secured retail loans remain robust, keeping delinquencies within manageable levels. It further stated that India's infrastructure spending, strong private consumption, and limited exposure to U.S. trade risks will continue to support its economic growth.

S&P Global also identified four key downside risks to global banking stability: escalating geopolitical tensions, stronger tariff spillovers, weaker regulatory oversight, and evolving threats from digitalisation,

India imposes anti-dumping duty on Vietnamese steel

MUMBAI

India has imposed an anti-dumping duty on hot-rolled flat products of alloy or non-alloy steel from Vietnam, for a period of five years, to protect domestic producers from the flood of cheap imports that are priced below their normal cost. The notification by the Department of Revenue, dated November 12, follows an investigation by the Directorate General of Trade Remedies (DGTR), which found that these products were being sold at prices below their normal price, causing material injury to the domestic industry.

The duty applies to hot-rolled flat products of alloy or non-alloy steel with a thickness of up to 25 mm and a width of up to 2100 mm, and is designed to ensure fair pricing and protect Indian producers. There is also a threat of further aggravated injury to the domestic industry, if anti-dumping duty is not imposed on import of subject goods from the subject country, the notification states.

QUICK COMMERCE BOOM

2-3 players to dominate India's QC market in top 40 cities

NEW DELHI

Like the e-commerce segment, where two or three players typically dominate the market in most countries, this concentration pattern has been extended to food delivery and quick commerce (QC) sector in India as well, where the top two or three firms are likely to control a major share of the market, a report has said.

The QC ecosystem in India is likely to follow a similar trajectory, with major players securing market share through aggressive growth, technological advancements, and operational effectiveness.

According to a Bernstein Research report, QC will dominate in top cities, while modern trade (MT) — retail supermarkets —will flourish in the next 400 cities. QC will dominate in the Top-40 cities, MT to flourish in the Next-400 cities and GT to lead the Last-4000 cities, the report noted.

At the same time, general trade (GT) -- kiranas and pop shops -- will remain the leader in the smaller cities, towns and villages. With rapidly evolving dynamics across city tiers, India's internet economy is entering a fresh phase of rapid growth. The report predicted that GT to lose ground to QC, e-commerce (EC), and MT; however, MT and EC may have healthy growth going ahead as well.

In India's top urban markets, quick commerce (QC) will dominate the retail channel, fuelled by consumer demand for immediacy, convenience, and efficient logistics networks. The report, however, emphasised that MT and EC still hold an advantage in areas such as product cataloguing and cost competitiveness. While MT retailers are focusing more on margins and deeper assortments, especially in semi-urban areas, QC and EC platforms are making significant investments in warehouse networks and logistics optimisation to cut costs.

Indian construction equipment sector revenue set to rise 6-8%

NEW DELHI

India's construction equipment sector's revenue is set to rise 6-8 per cent in current fiscal (FY26) driven by selective price hikes, firm export realisations and stable steel prices, a report said on Thursday. Strong overseas orders provide crucial support to this sector amid subdued domestic demand and higher equipment costs, according to the report from Crisil Ratings. Selective price hikes will partly offset higher compliance costs, said the ratings agency, adding that firm export realisations and stable steel prices will help mitigate pricing pressure from low-cost imports.

This will limit the contraction in operating margin to 11 per cent from around 12 per cent last fiscal and keep credit metrics stable across manufacturers, the report mentioned. India's construction equipment industry will continue to clock a volume growth of 2-4 per cent this fiscal and the next, the firm said.

Crisil's review of 17 leading manufacturers in the sector found that a 35% jump in exports in the first half of FY26 provided a key buffer against softer domestic demand.

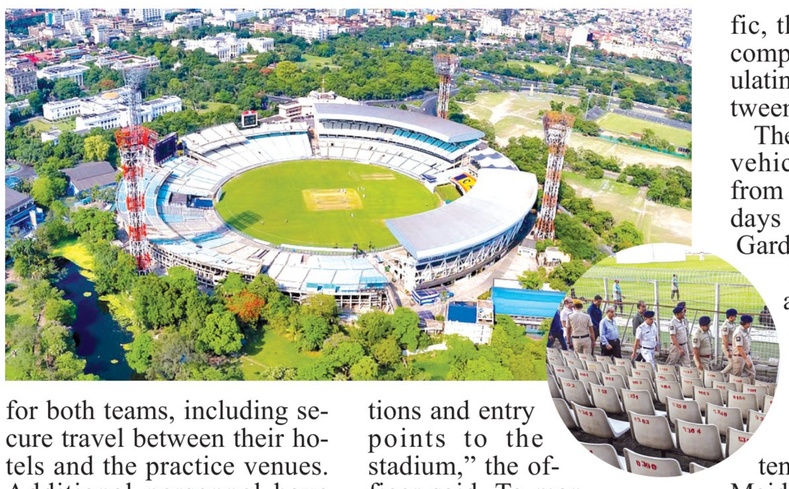
India-SA Test: Security Tightened, Traffic Curbs Imposed Around Eden Gardens

Authorities urged citizens to follow traffic rules and cooperate with police for safety

KOLKATA

With the India-South Africa Test match set to begin today, Kolkata Police have ramped up security across the city, especially around the iconic Eden Gardens Stadium and the adjoining Maidan area. The heightened measures will remain in force throughout the five-day encounter, officials confirmed.

A senior police officer said elaborate security arrangements have been made to ensure the safety of players, officials, and spectators. "We have strengthened protection for both teams, including secure travel between their hotels and the practice venues. Additional personnel have been deployed at key intersections and entry points to the stadium," the officer said. To manage the expected surge in traffic, the police have issued a comprehensive advisory regulating vehicle movement between November 14 and 18.



The movement of all goods vehicles will be prohibited from 7 am to 7 pm on match days in and around the Eden Gardens zone.

Public transport routes and parking arrangements have also been adjusted to facilitate smoother flow and reduce congestion.

Patrolling will be intensified in and around the Maidan, with both uniformed and plainclothes personnel stationed to prevent any untoward incidents. Drone surveillance and CCTV monitoring will be used to maintain real-time oversight of crowd movement.

Police officials noted that the current traffic and security guidelines are subject to modification depending on live conditions during match days. With thousands of fans expected to throng Eden Gardens, authorities have urged citizens to cooperate with security personnel and follow traffic instructions to ensure a safe and enjoyable cricketing spectacle.

Important to Counter Bumrah, Says Former SA Captain Graeme Smith

MUMBAI

Former South Africa captain Graeme Smith believes neutralizing Jasprit Bumrah's early threat will be key to the Proteas' chances in the upcoming Test series against India. Speaking ahead of the first Test at Kolkata's Eden Gardens on Friday, Smith said both Bumrah and Kagiso Rabada could play decisive roles in shaping the contest. "The biggest challenge in the subcontinent is getting off to a solid start," Smith said on the sidelines of an SA20 India event. "Countering Bumrah up front is crucial for us, and similarly, Rabada will be a big threat to India's top order." Smith noted that the Eden Gardens pitch is likely to assist pacers early on before slowing down midway through the match, giving both fast bowlers a chance to make an impact. Rabada, who has taken 55 wickets against India in 14 Tests, will lead the South African pace attack. "Rabada sets the tone with the new ball. His ability to strike early will be vital for captain Temba Bavuma and the team," Smith said. Smith, who captained South Africa in 108 Tests, added that batters would need to step up to support their bowlers. "The Eden Gardens offers good value for runs, and a full stadium can lift any batter's confidence," he said.

Smith expects thrilling duel between Bumrah and Rabada in upcoming India-South Africa Test.

Echoing Smith's views, former Proteas great Hashim Amla stressed the importance of big first-innings scores.

Meanwhile, ex-skipper Faf du Plessis cautioned that while South Africa's world champion status adds confidence, maintaining momentum throughout the series will be crucial.

With the world's top pacers in action, fans can expect a gripping start to the high-voltage Test series.

ISSF World C'ships: Duestad Triumphs as Ind, China Miss Podium in 50m Rifle 3P

CHENNAI

Norway's Jeanette Hegg Duestad broke the India-China dominance in Olympic shooting events at the ongoing ISSF World Championships in Cairo, Egypt, clinching her maiden world title in the women's 50m rifle three positions event. The result marked the first time in this edition that neither India nor China featured on the podium in an Olympic discipline.

Duestad, who displayed remarkable composure during the elimination stage, shot a total of 465.8 to secure gold, edging out Switzerland's teenager Emely Jaeggi, who took silver. Great Britain's Seonaid McIntosh, returning after a brief hiatus, completed the podium with bronze following a strong finish marked by consistent high 10s.

Until Tuesday, India and China had shared the spotlight at the championships, occupying the top two spots in the overall medal tally. Their shooters had dominated across events — with India's Samrat Rana winning the men's 10m air pistol crown and China's Yao Qianxun and Liu Yukun taking gold in women's 10m air pistol and men's 50m rifle 3P respectively.

However, the women's 50m rifle 3P final told a different story. Only one shooter from the two powerhouses — China's teenage prodigy Wang Zifei — reached the eight-shooter final, eventually finishing sixth. India's top contenders Ashi Chouksey, Anjum Moudgil, and Sift Kaur Samra placed 15th, 17th, and 48th respectively, missing qualification.

National rifle coach Deepali Deshpande said Sift had been recovering from minor back issues and was focusing on rehabilitation in recent months. Despite the setback, both teams are expected to bounce back in Thursday's women's 25m pistol event — the final Olympic discipline of the competition — as India and China aim to reassert their supremacy on the global stage.

Shubman Gill Hints at End of Mohammed Shami's India Career

KOLKATA

India captain Shubman Gill appeared to hint that veteran pacer Mohammed Shami may no longer feature in the national team's long-term plans, suggesting that the selectors were now focusing on younger bowlers. Speaking ahead of the Test series against South Africa, Gill praised Shami's quality but noted that India's current fast-bowling lineup left little room for the 35-year-old.

"A bowler of Shami Bhai's quality is not found easily, but you also have to consider the performances of others," Gill said. "You can't ignore someone like Akash Deep or Prasidh Krishna. We already have Siraj and Bumrah performing consistently. Sometimes, it's tough for senior players when they miss out."

Gill added that team selections were now guided more by future needs and playing conditions than by sentiment. "We plan based on the upcoming series and venues. The selectors are better placed to comment on fitness and availability," he said.

The Ajit Agarkar-led selection panel recently drew criticism for omitting Shami from the squad for the South Africa Tests, despite his steady performances for Bengal in the ongoing Ranji Trophy.

Shami last represented India during the Champions Trophy in March and has been recovering from a heel injury that required surgery after the 2023 World Cup.

According to reports, selectors had reached out several times to assess Shami's fitness and even urged him to play for India A against the England Lions, but the pacer reportedly declined. His current bowling workload has been limited to short four-over spells, with average speeds dipping below 130 kmph.

With younger pacers Akash Deep and Prasidh Krishna emerging as consistent options alongside Bumrah and Siraj, Shami's return to the national setup appears increasingly uncertain.

He is, however, expected to play Bengal's Ranji Trophy clash against Assam from November 16.

'Need a Miracle': Musetti Braces for Alcaraz Challenge in ATP Finals Clash

TURIN

Italy's Lorenzo Musetti admitted he would "need a miracle" to overcome Carlos Alcaraz in their final group-stage encounter at the ATP Finals today. After securing a hard-fought victory over Alex de Minaur, the 23-year-old Italian now faces what he called his "toughest match" of the tournament against the world No. 2.

Musetti entered the Turin event as a late replacement for Novak Djokovic, who withdrew following his Athens ATP 250 title win. The Italian had stumbled in his opening match against Taylor Fritz but bounced back with a thrilling 7-5, 3-6, 7-5 win over De Minaur in two hours and 48 minutes. That result kept his semifinal hopes alive, though much now depends on his performance against Alcaraz.

"The victory over Alex gave me confidence," Musetti said. "I can still reach the semifinals, but a lot depends on how I play against Carlos.

'It's never easy to come back after injury, but I'm glad I have done it': Rishabh Pant

KOLKATA

India's vice-captain Rishabh Pant is set to don his whites again after a four-month break when India face South Africa in the first Test at Eden Gardens on Friday. The wicketkeeper-batter, who suffered a foot fracture during the Manchester Test against England in July, said he was "grateful and happy" to return after a challenging recovery period.

"After an injury, it is never easy to come back. But God has been kind and I'm very happy to be back," Pant said in a video released by the BCCI. "Every time I take the field, I try to be grateful. I thank God, my parents, and my family for supporting me through this phase."

Pant, who had made a remarkable return to international cricket last year following his life-threatening car accident, said his focus during rehabilitation was on maintaining a positive mindset rather than reacting to external speculation about his fitness.

"One thing I do is focus on controllables. Luck is something you can't manage, so I try not to think about it. You find happiness when you focus on things that truly matter to you," he explained.

Viswanathan Anand Hails Pranav V's Fighting Spirit despite WC Exit

India's teenage chess prodigy Pranav Venkatesh bowed out of the Chess World Cup after losing to Uzbekistan's GM Nodirbek Yakubboev in the fourth round. Playing with the black pieces, the 19-year-old struggled early and resigned after 38 moves. Despite the defeat, Indian chess legend Viswanathan Anand lauded Pranav's courageous play and maturity. "Pranav had a very good run in the World Cup. He declined a possible repetition and tried to continue with his extra pawn, but it turned out badly," Anand wrote on X, praising his fighting spirit. Pranav had earlier beaten Aryan Tari and Titas Stremavicius in impressive fashion, marking one of his best international performances and a promising sign for Indian chess.

Gabriel Landeskog Ends 1,347-Day Goal Drought, Shares Joy with His Son

Colorado Avalanche captain Gabriel Landeskog scored his first regular-season goal in 1,347 days during a 4-1 win over Anaheim , marking an emotional moment in his comeback from a chronic knee injury. The 32-year-old forward, who missed three full regular seasons before returning last spring, said he couldn't wait to tell his young son, Luke, about the long-awaited goal. "He keeps asking me, and I'm like, 'No, not yet,'" Landeskog said with a smile. Landeskog, playing limited minutes this season, has been praised for his leadership during the Avalanche's strong 11-1-5 start. "He's the voice of reason," said goaltender Scott Wedgewood.

Jose Martinez Alcantara Fires Back at Kramnik with Ice-Cold Response

Grandmaster Jose Martinez Alcantara, once accused by Vladimir Kramnik in his unfounded cheating crusade, silenced critics with brilliant form at the Chess World Cup 2025 in Goa. After wins over Isaak Huh, Velimir Ivic, and top seed Nodirbek Abdusattorov, Martinez offered a pointed response to Kramnik's claims."At the end of the day, chess is chess. I know how to play," he said, in a clear dig at Kramnik's obsession with online cheating statistics.American professor Kenneth Regan supported Martinez, refuting Kramnik's flawed "non-normalized" data and stating there is no evidence of large-scale cheating, as Martinez's strong over-the-board performances continue to disprove the former champion's claims.

Euro 2028 schedule: Venues and host nations revealed for UK-Ireland tournament

The joint-hosted tournament will run from June 9 to July 9, 2028, across nine iconic stadiums

LONDON

UEFA has confirmed the full schedule and venues for Euro 2028, set to be the biggest European Championship ever, hosted jointly by England, Wales, Scotland and the Republic of Ireland.

The month-long tournament will kick off on June 9, 2028, and conclude with the final at Wembley Stadium on July 9.

Wales could feature in the opening game at Cardiff's Principality Stadium, while England's first match is likely to take place at Manchester City's Etihad Stadium. The four host nations will not receive automatic qualification but will play group-stage matches at home if they qualify. Each host nation will showcase multiple venues: Wembley will stage eight games, including the semifinals and final, while Dublin's Aviva Stadium hosts seven. Cardiff and Glasgow will each stage six, with other matches in Manchester, Newcastle, Birmingham, Liverpool and London's Tottenham Hotspur Stadium.

Euro 2028 will feature 24 teams and more than three million tickets, making it the largest edition in history. Northern Ireland was originally part of the bid but withdrew after redevelopment delays at Belfast's Casement Park. Football Association chair Debbie Hewitt called the announcement "a proud milestone," promising "a festival of everything we love about the game."

UEFA president Aleksander Ceferin said the tournament would celebrate the sport's origins in the UK and Ireland, uniting fans "in legendary stadiums filled with emotion."

The confirmed structure includes group matches across all venues, Round of 16 ties in Cardiff, Newcastle and Dublin, and semifinals and final at Wembley — setting the stage for an unforgettable summer of football.

Jyothi and Verma lead dominant campaign in Dhaka for India's compound archers

India shines with 4 medals, including 3 gold, at Asian Archery Ch'ships

DHAKA

India's compound archers produced a stellar performance at the Asian Archery Championships, clinching four medals — three gold and one silver — on Thursday, led by the experienced duo of V. Jyothi Surekha and Abhishek Verma.

Jyothi enjoyed a remarkable outing, winning both the women's individual and team gold medals, while Verma contributed to India's mixed team gold and men's team silver.

In the women's individual event, Jyothi displayed outstanding form, defeating Chinese Taipei's Chen Si-yu 149–143 in the semifinals before edging out her 17-year-old compatriot Prithika Pradeep 147–145 in an all-India final. The victory capped off India's dominance as both finalists came from the same contingent.

Earlier, the trio of Jyothi, Prithika, and Deepshikha combined brilliantly to beat Korea 236–234 in a thrilling women's team final. The Indian team maintained remarkable consistency, scoring 59 in each of the four ends.

In the men's team event, Verma, alongside Prathamesh Fuge and Sahil Jadhav, narrowly missed gold after going down 229–230 to Kazakhstan in a closely contested match. However, Verma bounced back in style, partnering with Deepshikha to secure a 153–151 win over Bangladesh in the mixed team final.

The results underscored India's growing strength in compound archery, with both seasoned names and rising stars making their mark on the continental stage.

With three gold medals — women's individual, women's team, and mixed team — and one silver in the men's team category, India reaffirmed its dominance ahead of next year's World Cup circuit.

Wood to undergo precautionary scan after hamstring soreness

PERTH

England fast bowler Mark Wood will have a precautionary scan on his hamstring after experiencing soreness on the opening day of England's Ashes warm-up match against the England Lions at Lilac Hill in Perth.

The 35-year-old, returning after nine months out following knee surgery, bowled eight overs across two sessions before leaving the field midway through his second spell. The England and Wales Cricket Board (ECB) said Wood's absence was precautionary and confirmed he is expected to bowl again on Saturday once the scan results are assessed.

Wood's brief but promising spell saw him concede 29 runs, with his pace intact as England continue fine-tuning ahead of the first Ashes Test, beginning November 21 at Perth's Optus Stadium. His recovery and fitness are being closely managed, given his history of injuries and England's need for experienced fast bowlers on Australian pitches. Skipper Ben Stokes, also making a comeback after a long layoff, impressed with four wickets in the warm-up, helping restrict the Lions to 208-5 at tea on day one. Among his scalps was rising batting hopeful Jacob Bethell, dismissed before lunch. The warm-up fixture marks England's final preparation before the high-stakes Ashes series, which features five Tests across Perth, Brisbane, Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney. The ECB remains confident that Wood's issue is minor, emphasizing the move is "purely precautionary" to ensure his readiness for the opener.

Watson joins KKR as asst coach for IPL 2026

KOLKATA

Former Australian all-rounder Shane Watson has been appointed as the assistant coach of the Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) for the 2026 edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL), the franchise announced on Thursday.

Watson, one of the most accomplished T20 cricketers of his generation, brings a wealth of experience from both his playing and coaching careers. The 44-year-old, who transitioned into coaching after retiring in 2020, has held mentoring roles across several global leagues, including the Pakistan Super League and The Hundred. In a statement, Watson expressed excitement about joining the KKR setup. "I am eager to work closely with the coaching group and players to help bring another title to Kolkata," he said.

A two-time ICC World Cup winner (2007 and 2015), Watson represented Australia in 59 Tests, 190 ODIs, and 58 T20 Internationals, scoring over 10,000 international runs and taking more than 280 wickets across formats. In the IPL, Watson's career spanned 12 seasons (2008–2020), during which he played 145 matches, scored 3,874 runs, and registered four centuries. He was part of two championship-winning teams — Rajasthan Royals (2008) and Chennai Super Kings (2018) — and was also named Player of the Tournament in the inaugural season. Welcoming him, Venky Mysore, CEO of KKR, said: "We are thrilled to have Shane Watson join the KKR family.

Thrilling Grand Finale Awaits at 28th JK Tyre FMSCI National Racing Championship 2025

JK TYRE MOTORSPORT

COIMBATORE

The 28th JK Tyre FMSCI National Racing Championship (JKNRC) is set for a spectacular grand finale at the Kari Motor Speedway on November 15–16, promising high-octane action, tight title battles, and star-studded appearances. Now in its 28th edition, India's longest-running motorsport championship will also feature American racing legend and three-time MotoGP World Champion Freddie Spencer, who will grace the event as a special guest.

The finale will see fierce competition across multiple categories — LGB Formula 4, JK Tyre Novice Cup, Royal Enfield Continental GT Cup, and the newly introduced JK Tyre Levitas Cup — along with the penultimate round of the FIA-certified Formula 4 Indian Championship, part of the Indian Racing Festival 2025.

In the LGB Formula 4, the country's premier single-seater category, Diljith TS (Dark Don Racing) leads the standings with 53 points, followed by Dhruvh Goswami (MSport Racing) on 45. The title race remains wide open heading into the final round.

The Royal Enfield Continental GT Cup will feature a Pro-Am showdown on powerful GT-R650s. Bengaluru's Anish Shetty leads the Professional class, while Bryan Nicholas (Puducherry) tops the Amateur standings.

The JK Tyre Levitas Cup, debuting this season with performance-tuned Maruti Suzuki Ignis cars, has produced tight battles, with Ashwin Pugalagiri and Balaji Raju tied at 32 points.

Meanwhile, in the JK Tyre Novice Cup, Abhijit Vadavalli (Momentum Motorsports) leads by just two points, ensuring a nail-biting finish as India's future racing stars vie for glory.

Rob Edwards Appointed Wolves Manager on Three-and-a-Half-Year Deal

WOLVERHAMPTON

Premier League strugglers Wolves have appointed Rob Edwards as their new head coach on a three-and-a-half-year contract, the club confirmed. The 42-year-old leaves Middlesbrough, where he had guided the team to second in the Championship table, to take charge at Molineux following Vitor Pereira's sacking earlier this month.

Edwards, returning for his fourth spell with Wolves after stints as a player, coach, and interim manager, faces the enormous task of reviving a side that has taken just two points from 11 league matches, leaving them bottom of the table and eight points from safety.

"I know Rob very well and have seen his growth in different jobs," said Wolves chairman Jeff Shi. "He knows the club, the fans, and the city, and he brings tactical awareness, leadership, and a clear identity to our team."

Middlesbrough had initially resisted Wolves' approach, but a reported £3 million compensation package paved the way for the move.

Edwards, who previously managed Luton Town in the Premier League, will be joined by assistant Harry Watling, continuing their successful partnership.

Shi described the appointment as "a new chapter" for the club, emphasizing that Edwards' philosophy and energy would help rebuild morale.

Edwards' first match in charge will be against Crystal Palace at home on Nov - 22.

Adjusting to Formats Will Be Gill's Biggest Test, Says Pujara

Former India batter Cheteshwar Pujara believes Shubman Gill's biggest challenge as captain will be adapting swiftly between formats but expressed confidence in the youngster's maturity and focus.

"Shubman is still young and doesn't have a heavy workload, but mentally, switching between formats can be tough," Pujara said ahead of the first Test against South Africa in Kolkata. "He led in ODIs, played T20s, and now returns to red-ball cricket — that transition demands patience and temperament."Pujara also backed Dhruv Jurel's inclusion to strengthen the batting lineup and called the series crucial for Sai Sudharsan, who continues at No. 3.

Raheem Sterling Confronts Burglars during Home Break-In; Family Safe

Chelsea winger Raheem Sterling confronted burglars who broke into his Berkshire home evening while his partner Paige Milian and their children were inside.

The intruders fled before stealing anything after being disturbed by the 30-year-old footballer, reports said. A spokesperson confirmed Sterling and his family were unharmed, though "deeply shaken" by the incident. "We are thankful that Raheem and his loved ones are all safe," the statement read. Sterling's home was also targeted in 2022, when valuables worth £300,000 were stolen, forcing him to leave the World Cup in Qatar early.

Gauff, Fritz Lead U.S. Title Defence at United Cup

World No. 3 Coco Gauff and No. 6 Taylor Fritz will headline the United States' title defence at the United Cup mixed-team event in Australia, organisers announced Thursday. The defending champions will once again face strong competition from Iga Swiatek's Poland, who they narrowly defeated in January's final. The 2026 edition, scheduled from January 2–11 in Sydney and Perth, will feature 18 nations, with each tie comprising men's and women's singles and mixed doubles. Germany's Alexander Zverev, Japan's Naomi Osaka, and Britain's Emma Raducanu are among other top names confirmed for the tournament, which serves as a key warm-up to the Australian Open.

Crew wind-up Sudeep-starrer 'Mark' shooting

The much-anticipated film Mark, starring popular actor Kiccha Sudeep, has completed its shooting, bringing excitement to fans across the country. The movie's teaser, which recently broke records, has already generated massive buzz, and the latest update has only added to the anticipation.

The final phase of filming took place on Kanakapura Road in Bengaluru, where the team wrapped up the shoot with a fun celebration that included smashing pumpkins. With shooting now complete, the crew has moved on to post-production, focusing on editing, visual effects, and sound design to ensure a thrilling final product for audiences.

Mark brings together Sudeep and Vijay Kartikeya, whose earlier collaboration in the film Max won widespread appreciation. In this new venture, Sudeep reprises the role of a determined police officer, portraying Ajay Markande, promising high-octane action and gripping drama.

The film features cinematography by Shekhar Chandra and a musical score composed by Ajaneesh B. Loknath, which is expected to enhance the film's intense action sequences. Produced jointly by Satyajyothi Films and Kiccha Creations, Mark has been designed to appeal to both action enthusiasts and general audiences alike.

Excitement is building for the film's release, scheduled for December 25, coinciding with the Christmas festivities. Fans are eagerly awaiting the big-screen arrival of Sudeep's action-packed performance and the dynamic chemistry between the lead actors. With shooting completed and post-production underway, Mark is set to be a major holiday entertainer, promising thrills, drama, and unforgettable cinematic moments.

Director Sundar C exits Rajinikanth film

In a surprising development, ace director Sundar C has stepped down from Superstar Rajinikanth's upcoming film, tentatively titled Thalaivar173. The project, produced by Kamal Haasan's Raaj Kamal Films International, had generated significant excitement among fans and industry insiders alike.

On Thursday, Sundar C issued a statement citing unforeseen and unavoidable circumstances as the reason for his decision to exit the prestigious project. He described the opportunity to work with Rajinikanth and Kamal Haasan as a dream come true, expressing gratitude for the trust and guidance offered by the two stalwarts of Tamil cinema.

In his statement titled A Heartfelt Note to My Dearest Fans and Well-Wishers, Sundar C said he would always cherish the special moments shared with the legends and that their inspiration would continue to guide him in future projects. He also thanked fans for their support, apologising for any disappointment caused by his departure and promising to continue delivering entertaining films.

Sundar C, known as one of Tamil cinema's finest commercial directors and husband of actress-politician Khushbu, emphasised that he would still seek guidance from both Rajinikanth and Kamal Haasan despite stepping back from the film. His announcement has left fans and the industry speculating on the future direction of Thalaivar173 and who might helm the project next.

The exit marks an unexpected twist for one of Tamil cinema's most anticipated ventures, highlighting the unpredictable nature of filmmaking, even for projects involving the industry's biggest icons. Fans now await further updates on the director's replacement and the project's progress.
